Six Teachers Are Needed To Resolve Overcrowding Problem

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Six teachers should be hired to solve overcrowding in Andover's elementary schools, the superintendent told the School Committee this week, but $20,000 worth of additional aide time may be a more realistic alternative.

The School Committee Tuesday night took no action to reduce class sizes in the elementary schools, instead asking the administration for further recommendations.

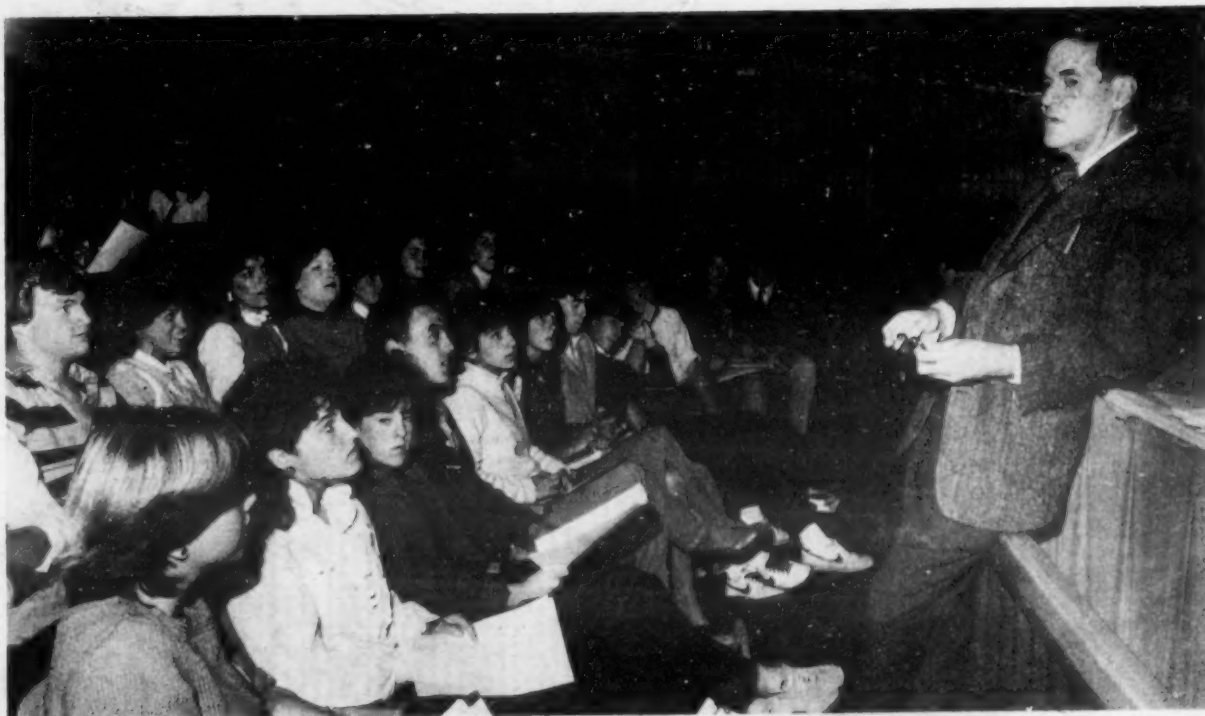

Donald Robb, chairing the meeting in the absence of Chairman Richard Neal, promised an overflow crowd of parents that the committee would "put something in place" at its next meeting, scheduled for Nov. 1. Robb indicated that the committee would consider adding teachers to the staff.

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert submitted a recommendation for an additional 36 hours of aide time at Bancroft School, grades four through six; 20 hours for grades two through four at Sanborn; eight hours in grade three and 12 hours in grade four at South; and 27 hours in grade one and 20 hours in grade four at West Elementary. Seifert said those aide hours would add up to $20,000.

However, the superintendent said that if the school committee wanted to follow its policy on staffing guidelines — which calls for 23 students in classrooms in grade one through three and 25 in grades four through six, with additional aides in classes of more than 27 to 29 — it would have to hire six elementary school teachers.

More teachers would be needed at the secondary level as well, Seifert added: perhaps as many as six.

Robb said there was "no way in the world we can conceivably do that (hire 12 teachers)." (Continued on Page 53)

Back In Andover

Theodore R. Sizer, former headmaster at Phillips Academy, was at Andover High School Monday meeting with faculty and students and discussing secondary education. Sizer is engaged in a study of secondary education in the country. Here, he meets with the Andover High Student Government.

New Speed Signs To Be Posted

With the state's approval, Andover will post new speed limit signs on Clark Road and River Street in Ballardvale. The Board of Selectmen approved the new speed limits Monday night.

The posted speed limit on both streets will be 25 miles per hour. The state Public Works department and Registrar of Motor Vehicles have both approved the new signs.

The restrictions on the two 'Vale' roadways includes Clark Road from the intersection of Dascomb Road to the intersection of Andover Street; and River Street from the intersection of Andover Street to the intersection of Ballardvale Street in Wilmington.

To Host Foreign Students

Nancy C. Jacobson

A reception for foreign students currently living in Andover and North Andover and attending Andover High School, North Andover High School, Brooks School and Phillips Academy will be held Monday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library.

This annual event, sponsored by the American Field Service and Memorial Hall Library, commemorates the founding on October 24, 1945, of the United Nations organization and its purpose—"To develop friendly relations among nations." Nancy C. Jacobson, director of Memorial Hall Library, will present her slide tape entitled "Last Summer in Moscow," which will be followed by an open discussion on the Soviet Union by a panel of local residents who recently toured the country.

Of particular interest will be the appearance of this year's local AFS students, Maria Eugenia Lobos of Chile, Henning Roettger of Germany, Pierre Cramoisy of France and Berkiye Oser of Cyprus.

Sue Wahr, president of the Andover chapter of AFS, will serve as hostess for the evening. Refreshments, provided by students from Andover High School's AFS club, will be served.

DCS Theater Trip

The Department of Community Services Show of the Month Club will be off to Boston on Thursday, Nov. 3, to see "Master Harold and the Boys" by Athol Fugard, starring Zakes Mokae who originated the role of Sam on Broadway and won the Tony Award for best supporting actor. A bus will leave Andover High School at 6:30 p.m. and return at 11 p.m.

Frankly autobiographical in nature, "Master Harold" tells the deceptively simple story of a young, white boy in South Africa in 1950 and the two black men who are employed as waiters in a tea room run by the boy's parents. In the course of the play, "Hal-ly" learns that his crippled and ineffectual real father is about to return home from the hospital and in his rage and grief, he lashes out at Sam in an action that provides the most searing moment of the play.

Reservations can be made at the community services office in Shawsheen School

Town Hall Flags Are Stolen

Two American Flags have been stolen within the past week from in front of the town hall.

Veterans Service Director John Lewis, disturbed about the losses, said this week that he would be working with police to try and recover the flags, with the idea they may have been stolen by youngsters or students. Lewis said that anyone apprehended for stealing the flags would be prosecuted.

Also, plans are being worked on to make the flags more secure by moving the rope-hold higher on the pole.

Santa Claus Leads List Of Approvals

The annual Andover Firefighters Santa Claus parade led the list of licenses and permits approved by the selectmen during a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night.

The firefighters will hold their Christmas parade starting at 1:30 Saturday, Dec. 1, at Central Park in front of Memorial Auditorium, Bartlet Street, with the selectmen's permission.

The board also approved New England Telephone's request to lay 40 feet of cable under a section of Chandler Road.

Bay State Gas was granted permission to excavate in Tewksbury Street, Brierwood Circle, Oriole Drive and Iroquois Avenue to install gas service; in Chestnut Street and Stratford Road to upgrade service to the Morton Street elderly housing project; in Chandler Road to install a new gas main to Belle Isle Way; and in Andover Street at High Street and Phillips Street at Main to repair gas service.

Pike School was granted a one-day all-alcoholic license for Oct. 27, 6:30 to 10 p.m. And Temple Emanuel, Haggetts Pond Road, was (retroactively) granted a one-day wine license for 7 p.m. to midnight Oct. 16.

Viet Vets Mortgages Available

Veterans Services Director John Lewis has applications and information relative to Vietnam-Era veterans mortgages which will be available by lottery.

The $15.9 million program was announced this week and has an application deadline of Nov. 7.

There will be an estimated 320 low interest mortgages awarded through a lottery conducted by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency.

Persons interested in information or applications should contact Lewis at town hall.

Immunization Records Required

Parents who have received a notice from Andover schools about required immunizations are reminded to review their children's immunization records, consult with the family physician and report any updates to the school nurse immediately.

An immunization clinic is planned for November 9 for any student needing updates. Parents wishing a child to be immunized must sign a permission slip. Any student who is not in compliance with the Massachusetts Immunization Law will be excluded from school on October 31. As of September 1, the new law requires immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles, mumps and rubella.

Awarded Degrees At UMass

The University of Massachusetts at Amherst awarded undergraduate degrees to 278 students in September. Among the Class of 1983 graduates were:

Andover: Karen Ann Foster, 96 Central St., B.S. in chemical engineering; Helen L. Pastor, 4 Sweetbriar Lane, B.S. in civil engineering; and Eileen M. Small, 169 High Plain Road, B.A. in education.

North Andover: James Chris Georgiou, 97 Bradford St., B.S. in communication studies.

French To Entertain At Council Meeting

Rollicking sea chantys and songs of all sorts will set the mood for the Open House at the Merrimack River Watershed Council Annual Meeting on October 23 from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. as Gay Pearson of West Newbury and Alan French of Andover combine on fiddle and accordian. Wine, coffee and light snacks will be served.

Women's Roles To Be Discussed

Constantina Safilios-Rothschild, senior associate of the Population Council, will discuss the roles of women in developing countries in a lecture sponsored by the Global Resources Project of Phillips Academy on Friday, Oct. 21, in Kemper Auditorium, Phillips Academy, Andover, at 8 p.m. Her talk is open to the public free of charge.

Safilios-Rothschild will make the point that the role of women in food production and agriculture in Third-World countries is virtually invisible in official statistics and in the eyes of the policy-makers; she hopes for more exposure for this issue and to make more information available. To this end, she is working on a project to collect and analyze socioeconomic indicators for women in the Third World.

She has worked in many underdeveloped countries including Honduras, Kenya, Sierra Leone, Lesotho and Zambia. An agricultural engineer with a Ph.D. in Rural Sociology from Ohio State, Safilios-Rothschild has been a professor at Wayne State University, the University of California at Santa Barbara and Penn State.

State and regional leaders on the cutting edge of natural resource and preservation policy in the Merrimack Valley will be on hand to discuss "The Future of the Merrimack: Options and Opportunities." Commissioner Walter E. Bickford, Massachusetts Department of Fisheries, Wildlife and Recreational Vehicles; Senator Nicholas J. Costello, Third Essex District; Paul Keough, acting deputy regional administrator, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region 1; and Robert D. Yaro, deputy commissioner, Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management, are the panelists.

Moderator Nathan Tufts, president of the MRWC, will cover topics ranging from the degree of water quality Massachusetts taxpayers can afford to the diversion of water from the Merrimack to the MDC Boston water supply, the development of new urban parks, challenges posed by urban run-off and the disposal of waste in the Merrimack Valley.

The musicians will also entertain at the fall cruise and chowder luncheon served on the Mt. Vernon Belle.

For further information, call council headquarters in West Newbury or the Concord, N.H., office.

Support For Toxic Bill Is Issued

State Representative Susan Tucker met recently with members of Massachusetts Fair Share to discuss her views on toxic waste problems as they relate to legislation now pending on Beacon Hill. The meeting took place at the Lowell Street home of Prof. and Mrs. Irving Gershenberg and included representatives from Fair Share, the Andover League of Women Voters and activists from the Lowell area who have been working to decontaminate the Silresim hazardous waste site.

Most of the discussion centered on the so-called "Right-To-Know" bill (S.2058), a proposal requiring that industries provide information as to what kinds of hazardous chemicals are being used in local facilities and what kind of potential threat the chemicals may pose to local residents and company employees.

Tucker had received some 60 letters from Fair Share members in her district expressing support for the Right-To-Know bill, and she was quick to assure those present that she would back the legislation in its strongest possible form. However, Tucker stopped short of committing herself to the original version of Right-To-Know proposed by Mass. Fair Share and the AFL-CIO Solidarity Coalition. The Coalition bill passed the State Senate by a landslide margin last April. Since then, it has met with stiff opposition from industry lobbyists, primarily the Associated Industries of Massachusetts and local chambers of commerce. Tucker pledged that she would make every effort to pass a bill that would be acceptable to environmental, labor and citizens groups as well as the business community.

"When this process first started," said Tucker, referring to negotiations on the bill being mediated by Gov. Michael Dukakis, "Fair Share and the business community were miles apart." She said that she was pleased to see that some of the worst points of conflict had been resolved.

Some of the strongest support for the AFL-CIO bill expressed at the Andover meeting came from Everett Penney, the health director for the town of Andover. Penney has monitored the cleanup of several toxic waste sites in Andover, and based on his experience, he argued that the provisions in the Right-To-Know bill would help local fire and health officials obtain information that was critical to the community's safety. Both Penney and Tucker commended Fair Share and the League of Women Voters for their role in promoting environmental safeguards and reform legislation.

"Without you," said Penney, addressing the citizens' organizations, "it would be very difficult for my department to get the financial and institutional support it needs to get the job done."

Finance Drive Underway

The League of Women Voters of Andover has set the week of October 17-22 for the Annual Finance Drive. Members will call on those individuals and businesses who have supported league functions in the past to ask for continued assistance.

Each year the public is given the opportunity to show their support of league activities by financial contributions. A tax-deductible option is offered through a gift to the LWV of the United States Education Fund, made through the local league drive.

Mary Ann Marusich of Williams Street is finance chairperson. President Judith Medler wishes to acknowledge with appreciation the undergirding which the finance drive gives to the annual budget. Although volunteers chair all league activities, the cost of supplies, postage, literature and printing must be born as budget items.

This year the local study item will be an update of local positions which will lead to the publication of a new "Know Your Town-Andover" booklet sometime in 1984.

Andover Artist Has A Surprise For Gallery

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Janvier Lange Miller, an Andover artist well known for her engaging sun-washed silkscreen prints, is taking her work in a new direction. And she predicts that when her latest show opens at the Andover Gallery on Sunday, "people are really going to be surprised."

For the past year, the artist has been working on a series of acrylic and watercolor paintings that concentrate on pattern rather than light. In her prints, "light was very important to me," she explains. "I'm not doing that in my paintings now. Instead it's pattern — a radical departure that may only be temporary," she says, smiling.

Her new paintings will be shown at the 68 Park St. gallery from Oct. 23 through Nov. 15, with an opening reception Sunday evening.

Each painting fills the canvas with a slightly bird's-eye view of a tabletop bearing "everyday objects" — coffee cups, plates, silverware — against a patterned background. Using pattern and color — sometimes bright, sometimes soft — she is trying to find "a balance between description and abstraction" in the "interplay" between the objects and their backdrops.

One striking and whimsical painting sets pink daisies and a collection of postcards (most notably a Betty Boop card) against a bright red, floral-printed tablecloth. The more serene "Setting on Pink," the largest canvas, scatters white and blue plates and a single flower in a vase across a pale pink backdrop. In "Chocolate Cake" (which the artist calls "the most austere of the paintings"), four coffee cups and a cake sit on wide blue and tan stripes criss-crossed by narrow red stripes. And "Remote Control" sneaks in an incongruous television remote control device among a pitcher of flowers and a set of coffee cups, all on a tabletop of wide blue stripes.

The colors in Janvier's new paintings are warmer than those in her prints, which "tend to be higher contrast and cooler," she notes. But color is "not important to me now," she adds. Influenced by the work of Lucas Samaras and the Chicago pattern painters ("artwork I particularly like — I just find it exciting work"), she has moved from the "emphasis on light and dark" in her prints to an emphasis on pattern.

And although her new works are "still descriptive," they are decidedly more abstract than her silkscreens. She is trying to find the right balance between those two qualities in her paintings.

The subject of her work, however, remains much the same: She chose tabletops because "I see them a lot," Janvier explains. "My subject has almost always been what's around me — the children, the cat, my plants. It still is basically the same — the house, the radio, flowers." (She adds that she subscribes to the old adage, "It's not what you paint, it's how you do it.")

Janvier is warm and open, even if a bit reluctant to talk about herself and her art. She works in a sunny studio at her home on Main Street, where she has lived with her family since 1969.

The artist's husband of 22 years is sculptor Gustav Miller, who also works at home and is shown by the Andover Gallery and the Thomas Segal Gallery in Boston. (Living with another artist has never been a problem, she says: "It's helpful — we have a common interest. And our work is very different.") Their son, Howard Miller, is a 1983 graduate of Phillips Academy currently studying architecture at Cornell; their daughter, Louise Miller, is an "artist-in-the-making" at Syracuse University, studying in London this semester.

As a child in Bronxville, N.Y., "printing church bulletins in the basement with my father got me interested in silkscreening," Janvier remembers; her mother, an artist, was another influence. She is a graduate of Syracuse University and has studied in Rome and the Middle East.

She did not begin printmaking until her children were entering junior high school

"My family is more important to me than art," she says. "That's the most important focus. I didn't do any art for a long time when the kids were small." She did, however, teach art at Bancroft School for a while, and involve her children in such artistic projects as making wooden puzzles and batik.

A class in silkscreening at the DeCordova Museum in Lincoln "got me going" about eight years ago, she recalls. Printmaking attracted her in part because prints are "more accessible", more affordable, than many other art forms ("one-of-a-kind art becomes expensive").

Acceptance came readily: She was soon represented by galleries all over New England, in New York, Texas, Minnesota, Illinois. "I entered a few shows, and they found me," Janvier says (adding that it can be easier to win recognition for prints than for other art). Today she is represented by the Andover Gallery and the Stavridis Gallery on Newbury Street, Boston, among many others — and at the new Lange Miller Gallery on Main Street in Chatham, which she opened with her husband this summer.

The Millers opened their gallery because "making art is an isolated way to live," and the two artists "needed some way to be in contact with the world." They once ran the Gray Goose art shop on North Main Street in Andover, but gave it up when it became

Artist

too demanding. "We wanted a business that would be less time-consuming, but still get us out of the studios." (They chose the Cape, where they have spent many summers, because it's "so beautiful" there.)

Her work has won many awards, including a best-in-show award in Chatham this summer, a best-in-show award at the Topsfield Fair in 1981, and a number of awards at Andover's annual Art-in-the-Park exhibits. The Addison Gallery at Phillips Academy and the DeCordova both have her prints in their collections, she says with pride.

And one print, "Sunapee", has been made into a ballet, choreographed to the music of Bartok and danced at Boston University and Suffolk University. "They set up the stage to look just like the print (a row of rocking chairs on a porch) and used the same colors (cool greens and blues) in the costumes. It was really fun. It was exciting to have it come to life."

Just as she has always painted (every silkscreen began with a watercolor, which she used as her master for color), she will continue to make prints. "I'll always do prints, but on a limited basis, not full-time." Printmaking is "very labor-intensive," she explains, and can be "exhausting." Painting will let her invest more "creative time" in her work.

And she will not miss some of the less pleasant aspects of printmaking: working with "bad smells" (the chemicals required for silkscreening), and the chore of marketing her prints. "I don't like all the book-keeping and mailings, dealing with so many galleries. With prints, you have a hundred copies to try and sell."

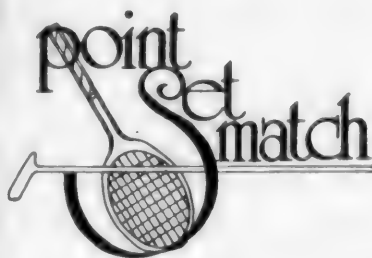

Janvier comments that she has "really enjoyed living here in the town. People have been really responsive to what I do. And there is an artistic community here, with the two galleries (the Andover Gallery and the Addison Gallery), and a lot of working artists who are doing some pretty exciting work."

As she continues to work on her painting, the artist's goals include "enjoying life." Janvier Lange Miller has found making art in Andover, she says quietly, "a very peaceful and satisfying life."

Family Service Meeting

Mrs. Eartha Dengler will be the principal speaker at the 124th annual meeting of the Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence on Friday, Oct. 21. The association was chartered in 1859 as "City Mission" and was the very first social service agency in the area, offering non-denomination counseling, visiting of the poor, financial help and spiritual support.

Dengler will discuss the early days of the Family Service Agency as well as the experience of Lawrence as "Immigrant City," a name given to the city as early as 1905 because of the ethnic groups that had arrived from all over the world to make up the mills' work force.

Dengler is an immigrant to America, having arrived in 1951 from North Germany. Although trained as a draftsman, when her three children became older, she attended Northeastern University and University of Massachusetts at Boston to obtain her bachelor's degree in German Literature and American History. She taught in secondary education for a while, then attended Simmons College to obtain her M.S. degree in Library Science.

The Family Service Association headed by Janet Hosmer, president; Rev. Gary Cornell, vice president; Jeffrey Carpenter, secretary; Jane Parthum, assistant secretary; Roger N. Bower, treasurer; and Anthony Torrisi, assistant treasurer.

The association receives a portion of its support from the United Fund and the remainder from fees and donations. It is a non-sectarian, non-profit voluntary human service agency, committed to the national concept that "the family, more than any other single institution, shapes the personality and character of every individual and that the nature of life in our society depends on the quality of its family life." Thomas Kelley is the executive director.

To Impersonate Shoals Poet

Donna Marion Titus of Manchester, N.H., will give an impersonation of Celia Thaxter, poet from the Isles of Shoals, at a Coffee House, Friday, Oct. 28, sponsored by the Unitarian-Universalist Church, November Club, Locke St., Andover.

Included in the program will be a description of life growing up on an island and poetry readings.

Ivar Sjostrom, local pianist-organist, will provide musical interludes including light classical pieces by Beethoven, Mozart and Schumann in the Victorian era.

Titus has given over 50 performances in and around New England and is a writer, artist, wife and mother. She has brought 'Thaxter alive,' for schools, church groups, literary organizations and Women's clubs. "The Coffee House is an extremely interesting atmosphere in which to bring Celia Thaxter," she comments. "It is appropriate because it is similar to the informal friendliness and intellectual stimulation that Mrs. Thaxter created in her parlor on Appledore Island. There the famous creative artists, writers, musicians, and philosophers of the 19th century met to share their talents and ideas and to enjoy each other's company."

Halloween Party Is Planned

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Lawrence, a Merrimack Valley United Fund Agency, will treat the children in the program to a Halloween supper party on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 6 p.m. Halloween crafts, games and a costume parade are planned for all Big and Little Brothers and Sisters and children who are waiting for Big Brothers/Sisters.

According to board member and former Big Sister, Gail Gibson of Andover, there is an urgent need for adult volunteers who can make a commitment to help a child.

There are an estimated 52 million dogs and 36 million cats in the U.S.

To Keynote Headmaster's Symposium

Phillips Academy invites the public to hear the National Urban League president, John E. Jacob, on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m. in Cochran Chapel. Jacob's talk will be a keynote address to anticipate and lead off Andover's winter-term Headmaster's Symposium which will be on "Race Relations in America."

The Urban League, founded in 1910, has been active for more than 70 years to secure equal opportunities in all phases of life for blacks and other minorities. Jacob has provided leadership during 20 years as an Urban League administrator in Washington, D.C., and the far west, in providing services to youth and on the issues of teenage pregnancy, single female heads of households, voter participation and crime.

Phillips Academy's Headmaster's Symposium will present a series of prominent lectures and films, free and open to the public, exploring the history of race relations in this country from colonial times to the present from an historical view. For the 200 students who participate in the symposium, there will be extensive readings and Wednesday evening discussion groups, with student and faculty co-leaders. They will begin with "An American Dilemma," the landmark study of race relations in America which Gunnar Myrdal wrote in 1944. One of the questions the symposium will pose is how far have we come in the intervening 40 years?

English instructor Louis Bernieri, a symposium planner, said the study will move backwards in time to talk about colonialist racist thought, then move into the 19th century and the Civil War, then jump forward to the 1960s and the Civil Rights movement, and up to the present. He expects the cultural celebrations of Andover's third annual Black Arts weekend to contribute their focus to the symposium.

Jacob received his undergraduate and master's degrees from Howard University, where he is vice chairman of the trustees. He is on the board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the New York Foundation and the New York Telephone Company and the D.C. Manpower Services Planning Advisory Council in Washington, D.C.

Nursing Service, Hospice Merge

Two of the area's humanitarian organizations have officially merged. Greater Lawrence Home Health services and the Hospice of Greater Lawrence have combined and now offer expanded health care services to all area residents.

"As a result of this merger, we offer a very special benefit to the community," says Anita Gorman, executive director of Greater Lawrence Home Health Services. "We provide the nursing and therapy services and Hospice contributes its skilled volunteer and bereavement expertise. Together, the services will benefit everyone."

Hospice care is a method and philosophy of caring for terminally-ill patients. It directs support not only to the patient, but to family members as well. The two unique features that distinguish hospice care from other types of care for the terminally-ill are its volunteer component and its bereavement counseling.

"The volunteers add a very personal dimension to the medical care and treatment provided by our nursing personnel," says Gorman. Connie Carroll, hospice director, adds "The volunteers are an integral part of the hospice team. They really support the patient and the family in ways that may not appear heroic, but in fact are very important. Sometimes just being there to listen and share can be a tremendously significant contribution."

Hospice also offers bereavement counseling and volunteer follow-up for the family and spouse of the patient. "It is a very complete program," says Gorman, "and is an excellent addition to the rehabilitative and long-term care services we provide to Greater Lawrence residents."

One impetus for the merger was a strong, unselfish commitment by both boards of directors to provide a single unified service to area residents. The program will operate out of the new North Andover offices of Greater Lawrence Home Health Services, a Merrimack Valley United Fund member.

Health Center Moves

Saturday, Oct. 15, was moving day for the Greater Lawrence Family Health Center. The doctors, nurse practitioner, nurses and staff of the non-profit community health center moved to 150 Park St., the former Assumption School, between Saratoga and Bunker Hill Streets, in Lawrence. The building, purchased from the Archdiocese of Boston, has been renovated into a spacious, modern medical clinic.

The doors were opened at 1 p.m. Monday, Oct. 17, for appointments. The three-year-old community health center will continue to offer a full program of comprehensive primary care for the whole family, without regard to financial circumstances. Prenatal services have been added, as well as nutrition and health education, to complete the range of services.

The decision to move came when the number of clients rose to 3,000 and the number and range of medical providers to treat them was expanded and the Bradford Street accommodations became inadequate.

According to Margaret Trainor, R.N., M.S., professional services director, the health center's staff was expanded in July to include two family physicians, two general practitioners, a pediatrician and a family nurse practitioner. She said a second nurse practitioner and a nutritionist will be added. Some space will be rented to allied health services.

An expansion of the board of directors, drawn from the community, will follow according to the Rev. James Keller, board chairman. He stated: "The Family Health Center is seeking qualified community residents and representatives interested in volunteering one or two evenings per month to help guide the Family Health Center." When asked what qualified prospective board members, Leo W. McCarron, Jr., executive director of the HFC, replied, "An interest in the health care and general well being of the people in and around Lawrence is of great importance."

The center is seeking donations of money, medical equipment supplies, office furniture, office equipment and supplies, including working refrigerators. Such donations may be tax deductible since the Family Health Center is certified as a non-profit organization under section 501(c) (3) of the IRS codes.

Additional volunteers to work in all areas are also solicited. As a community health center, with a sliding fee scale based upon family size and income, the FHC provides medical care to all uninsured patients at the cost they can afford. Medicaid and Medicare insurances are also accepted. Anyone will to join in this community endeavor as a volunteer worker, board member or benefactor should contact McCarron or Ruben Nieves, business manager, at the health center.

Open House

An Open House will be held at Austin Preparatory School, 101 Willow St., Reading, on Sunday, Nov. 6, from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Students will serve as guides and representatives of the registrar's office and business office will answer questions. The school's entrance and scholarship exam will be given on Saturday, Nov. 19, at 8:30 a.m. and again on Saturday, Dec. 3. All applicants must take the Austin exam in person at the school.

Austin Prep is a modern secondary school dedicated to meeting the academic, cultural and athletic needs of young men in the average to superior range of intellectual ability. Boys who have successfully completed eight years of elementary school are eligible for admission to the ninth grade. Students who wish to enter grade ten may also apply.

Youngsters In Production

Thirty-four area actors will participate in the Oct. 21, 22, 23 production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." Unlike the Broadway version of the same play by Charles Schultz, this drama is acted by students aged 12-14. The world of Peanuts will come alive at 7 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday at the West Elementary School, Andover.

Tickets may be purchased from the Department of Community Services, Andover, or from any cast member. Specific seats are not reserved, but tickets are pre-determined to be for one of the three performances.

The play has been double-cast so that understudies can play the lead for one of the performances. Steve Trussell, an eighth grader at West Junior High in Andover, plays Charlie Brown number one. His goal is to be an actor and he already has many lead roles to his credit. David Norris, a student at Doherty Junior High, Andover, has also had much acting experience; he particularly likes playing Charlie Brown number two because this character has "many faces."

Lisa Shaer, at ninth grader at West Junior High, is just starting what she hopes to be a long stage career. She comments that "everyone who comes will know we're having a good time. We all love an audience and it's so much fun!" As

Lucy number one, Lisa shares the role with Beth Fagen from Doherty Junior High. Beth, along with many of the other performers is a member of Andover's drama workshop for kids, "Jelly Beans."

Rounding out the cast is a talented chorus: Michael Cyr, Cheryl Pisani and Becky Pollina of North Andover and Vanessa Ackley, Kristen Alberich, Elizabeth Carew, Christine Colngeli, Meredythe Fisk, Kerin Gangi, Mary Ellen Green, Colleen Hagen, Kathy Hennessy, Robin Hessman, Molly Kalkstein, Julie Mason, Kelly Moynihan, Andrea Napolitano, Julie Tacy, Andrea Thompson, Heidi Tobias, Sarah Walker and Amy Zimmerman.

The other main characters are Matt Zipeto and Stephen Schmidt as Linus, Christian Parker and Randall Bachner as Schroeder, Deana Drummond (Methuen) and Jessica Hill as Peppermint Patty and Shorey Walker and Meg Geddes as Snoopy.

The Peanuts gang is ably assisted by Matt Cyr, Sarah Halleran, Diane Zipeto and Amanda Mead. As with the real Peanuts cartoon strip, the adults are all behind the stage; the play is directed by Josie Walker and produced by Ellen and John Zipeto.

Salle Exhibit At Addison

An exhibition of drawings, prints and paintings by David Salle opened Saturday, Oct. 1, at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Andover. The artist, who is closely associated with the Mary Boone Gallery in New York City, has, like his stablemate, Julian Schnabel, achieved meteoric visibility over the last several years. Critically hailed and derided, frequently linked with neo-Expressionists such as Robert Longo, Susan Rothenberg or Julian Schnabel (with whom he has executed collaborative pieces), Salle is actually on a different wavelength entirely. In fact, he is the most visible American painter of his generation to comprehend and build on the central concerns and ideas inherent in the conceptual movement of the 1970s.

The conceptualists' embattled international crusade to extend the possibilities of art through fundamental changes in the relationships of idea, process and distribution failed after a decade in large part due to its willingness to eliminate the residual art object, that corpus which since the beginning of recorded art history had identified and signified those entities called Art.

The conceptualists' cool documentary packages sacrificed the "magic" of the residual art object in order to purify and clarify art experience, but young artists of the late '70s, distrusting the cool cerebrations of the conceptualists, returned to object-making and particularly to ambient, illusory and tactile painting.

Disjunctive, filtered, enigmatic, funny, harsh, erotic, cool, evanescent, frustrating, slick, irrational, elegant, multi-layered, episodic, wet, multi-referential, paradoxical, unfathomable, but believable and familiar, Salle's paintings reflect the possibility of synthesizing visualizations of the structure of thought with the archetypal language of painting. About thinking, his painting has pictured thought's process itself.

Included in this exhibition are six large oil paintings, a portfolio of eight screenprints entitled "The Drunken Chauffeur," with the original drawings for the prints and a large mixed media drawing. In addition to the works themselves, the exhibition includes an adjunctive information gallery containing reference material, critical reviews and works from the Addison Gallery collection which provide an enabling context to assist museum visitors to approach David Salle's work.

The exhibition has been arranged with the assistance of the Mary Boone Gallery, New York City, and Parasol Press, Inc., New York City, and continues through November 23.

Sen. McGovern Has Bill To Aid Victims

Legislation sponsored by Sen. Patricia McGovern (Second Essex and Middlesex) would provide that certain services be made available to the victims and witnesses of crime and would grant victims the right to testify at pre-sentencing hearings of defendants.

"For the first time we are giving victims a chance to be heard and asking judges to listen to the victims' side of the story," said Sen. McGovern, Senate chairman of the Committee on Criminal Justice. "Victims will be able to tell how crime has changed their lives, and to suggest sentences for those crimes. Also, each district attorney's office will prepare a written Victim Impact Statement to tell the judge how much the victim was really hurt."

The legislation would establish comprehensive statewide guidelines for services to be provided by district attorneys to victims and witnesses and would fund these programs at no cost to the state by providing for assessments against those convicted of committing crimes.

"I know, from my own experience as a practicing attorney, that victims of crimes have been the most ignored and victimized participants in the criminal justice system," McGovern said.

The legislation would establish, in the case of a felony, the right of a victim, or if the victim is unable due to the seriousness of the crime, the victim's family, to testify at the pre-sentencing hearing of the convicted defendant as to the impact of the crime and as to recommended sentence.

District attorneys would be required to submit written statements to the court, indicating the financial, physical and psychological impact of the crime on the victim.

Victims and witnesses would be provided with certain services through programs established by local district attorneys. These services would include information relative to court appearance and case process dates, witness fees, victim restitution and compensation, social service referrals, transportation, employer intercession, protection, return of property, child care and waiting facilities.

Through passage of this legislation, Massachusetts would join five other states which have broad victim-witness programs: Nebraska, California, Wisconsin, Washington and Oklahoma. Seven other states are considering legislation to establish such statewide programs.

Nineteen states in all are or establishing another considering providing funding source, to replace increased state funding federal monies

Warrior Band To Compete

The Andover High School Golden Warrior Marching Band will be one of the many bands competing in the fourth annual marching band competition sponsored by the Andover Band Association to be held Sunday, Nov. 6, at 11 a.m. at the Eugene V. Lovely field.

Marching on the field to a show designed by Jerry Hickey and music arranged by Joe Taylor, the band uses winds, percussion and flags to create a fast paced musical program with continuously changing marching formations.

The first selection in this year's show is "Children of Sanchez" by Chuck Mangione. The second selection, a jazz tune, "The Serpent" by Keith Mansfield, features Jim Pelz on trombone and David Pascucci on trumpet with improvisational solos. Neil Diamond's "African Trilogy" is a percussion specialty in which the drums and bells are featured while the band performs intricate marching maneuvers combined with a colorful flag line. The American folk tune, "Sheanadoah," is the final selection and features solos by Pelz on trombone and Dino Martone on trumpet.

The band is directed by drum major Kathy Snow and features Chris Atwood, Tim Bennett, Bill Gorman, Jeff Mirasola, Larry Prestia, Kathy O'Connor, Lynda Turcott and Tad Kitowicz on drums. Renee Marchand and Hope Margerison play the cymbals, Michelle DeVoir, Kristen James and Chris McCarthy play the bells and Andrew Schulz is the electric bass player.

Featured on trombone are Garrett Day, Dino Martone and Jim Pelz. Saxophone players are Gregg DeVoir, Kathy Gorman, Jim Hess, Adam Klodny, Adam Liberman, Daniel Messinger, Bronwyn Niece, Laura Oberst and Kim Surdam. The sousaphones are played by Kathryn Schwarz and Beth Snow with Arlene Ciaccia, Sandy Edwards, Kathy Malone, Melissa Marquis, Dorothy Nelson, Lisa Oberst, Steffi Schulz and Joy Stafford on clarinet. On the piccolo are Melinda Carnes, Susan Chapman and Michele Ciaccia and Kristen Duffy, Linda Farr, Karen Gray and Christie Lyons play the flute.

Trumpets are played by Stephen De Voir, Allen Gable, Bart Kalkstein, David Nichols, assistant drum major David Pascucci, Penny Starks and John Stephens with Margaret Gemmell and Barbara Schwarz on the baritone horn and Kim Olsen on the French horn.

The color guard, under the direction of Capt. Ann Marie Murphy and Co-Capt. Kathy Nolin, are Lori Becker, Jo Burkholder, Ellen Byrne, Julie Hovious, Laurie Lyons, Lisa Mackay, Lisa Minkinen, Jennifer Reynolds, Maryanne Roche, Christine Sheehan, Kerri Smith, Sheryl Stephens, Angella VanDerWielan and Bobbie Williams. The band is managed by Heather Taylor.

The band will travel to Wakefield Saturday evening, Oct. 22, to compete in their third competition of the season. Parents are reminded that tickets are available from Douglas and Barbara Snow and there is room on the bus.

Donald O'Connor still needs some chaperones for future competitions and away football games

Andy Schulz provides entertainment with electric bass with Andover High marching band during halftime show at Lovely Field.

Snow, president of the Andover Band Association, reminds all parents that there will be a meeting on Monday Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the band room to finalize all plans and solicit support and help for the November 6 competition.

Open House

Bauer-Pallone

Anne Marie Pallone, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Adrian J. Pallone of 1 Rennie Drive, Andover, was married to John Charles Bauer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bauer of North Caldwell, N.J., on Sept. 24 at St. Augustine's Church, Andover.

Rev. Richard O'Leary, O.S.A., officiated at the eleven o'clock nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown designed and made by her grandmother, Laurina Pallone. The heirloom gown was fashioned of silk taffeta with a bodice of alencon lace, old-fashioned puffed sleeves with lace inserts, a full skirt, and detachable train trimmed in lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of alencon lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of roses, tiger lilies, lilies of the valley and ivy.

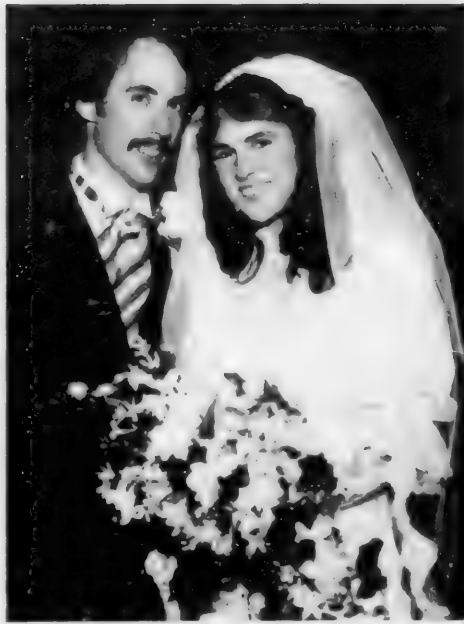

Janet and Joan Pallone of Andover, sisters of the bride, were maids of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Pallone of Atkinson, N.H., the bride's sister-in-law, and Michele Giannone of Andover. They wore dresses of lagoon blue chiffon, and carried fans adorned with peach roses, blue flowers and ivy.

James P. Bauer of Charleston, W.Va., the groom's brother, was best man. Ushers were John M. Pallone of Atkinson, N.H., the bride's brother, and Neil Nathanson of Roseland, N.J.

Organ music was provided by Mary Lanigan and Cathy Zall was the soloist.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Haverhill Country Club. Guests attended from Michigan, West Virginia, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

The bride is a magna cum laude graduate of Tufts

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bauer

University, where she studied mathematics. She is employed by Western Electric.

Her husband is a graduate of Syracuse University, and is currently pursuing a master's degree in computer science at the University of Illinois.

Following a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple is living in Windham, N.H.

Nature Theme

Andona Prepares For Ball

Andona Society members have been planning for months to transform the Sheraton Rolling Green with a fall nature theme of dried mums, statice, driftwood and partridges on Friday, Nov. 4.

Chairmen Mrs. Janet Krabec and Mrs. Joan Rosenblatt have overseen preparation for the ball that will include dancing to the music of Double Vision from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with wine and hot and cold hors d'oeuvres served from 9 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The committee: Mrs. Christine Hayward and Mrs. Jean Mavrikos, door and invitations; Mrs. Maureen Spinelli, decorations; Mrs. Christine DeAngelis, finance; Mrs. Sue Zemko and Mrs. Sandy Kirkles, refreshments; and Mrs. Joanne Vietor, publicity.

The proceeds will further Andover's civic, educational and recreational endeavors for the youth of Andover.

Reservations for the event, which is open to the public, may be made by contacting Mrs. Jean Mavrikos, 191 River Road, or Mrs. Christine Hayward, 23 Launching Road, Andover.

TV Reporter Guest Of College Club

The College Club of Greater Lawrence will present Sharon Wright, WBZ-TV's award winning investigative reporter, as the featured speaker for the first meeting on October 25 at 7:45 p.m. at the Osgood Hill Conference Center in North Andover.

Wright's reports on Channel 4 have included the "Clam Scam," an expose of the clamming industry; "Dangerous Passage," an investigation into the state's school buses; a series on car repair ripoffs; the safety hazards of dining out in Boston; and President Reagan's deregulation of the auto industry.

Wright has received an Emmy and an Associated Press Award for her coverage of consumer issues. She has been cited twice by the governor for her contributions to consumer awareness in this state.

Members and their guests are invited.

Holiday Harvest At Pike

With the cool Autumn days of October comes the Pike School Holiday Harvest, a potpourri of unusual gifts and articles to delight the most discriminating shopper.

On Thursday, Oct. 27, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., free admission to the cocktail party, live music and hors d'oeuvres heighten the festivities. A cash bar will be available. Merchants of the marketplace will offer articles for sale, an excellent chance to choose a unique gift. Raffle tickets for a Boston "get-away" weekend will be sold. The winning ticket will be drawn shortly before the close of the party.

The shopping area opens at 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 28. A gourmet luncheon will be available by reservation only to Ellen Baldwin. Fashions, courtesy of The Yankee Lady, Andover, will be modelled during the luncheon.

The shops open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 29. From 12 p.m. to 2 p.m. light luncheons will be available, no reservations necessary. Pike School children will model garments from Crib'n'Bib and The Prep Shop in Hampton, N.H.

The Holiday Harvest is sponsored by the Pike School Parents Association to benefit the school at Sunset Rock Road, Andover.

Church In Preaching Program

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ) is participating in the Boston University School of Theology's Preaching Program. The Rev. Philip Brearley Kenas, coordinator of the Doctor of Ministry Program at the School of Theology will preach on "Confession: Confusion" at Sunday's 10:30 a.m. service. The congregation will be able to meet him during the coffee fellowship time after the service. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor, will be the liturgist for the service. Beginning Thursday, Oct. 27, the church will offer a fall bible study at 9 a. m. entitled "Teacher, Savior and Lord." Mr. Cornell will teach the study which is based on the Gospels according to Matthew and Luke.

will be the special weekend guest lecturer at the second Benjamin Russem Scholar-in-Residence Weekend at Temple Emanuel in Andover October 28-30.

Family and friends of Benjamin Russem, Andover resident and prominent Greater Lawrence businessman for more than half a century, memorialized him and the contributions he made to the community by establishing a fund to make it possible for the Andover Temple to periodically schedule such Scholars-in-Residence programs.

The second Scholar-in-Residence program will begin with a Greater Lawrence Clergy Institute on Friday, Oct. 28, when Dr. Sachar will speak on "A Climate of Commitment," the great need for social commitment if we are to make religion come alive.

At Sabbath Eve Services on Friday, Dr. Sachar will speak on "The Redemption of the Unwanted," the story of the survivors of the holocaust and their excruciating experience of changing their image from that of victim to self-reliant human beings.

On Sunday morning at a Continental Breakfast at 9:45 a.m. he will discuss "An Agenda for Tomorrow," a prognosis of our responsibilities now and for the future. Friday night and Sunday morning lectures are open to the public.

Dr. Sachar is the founding president of Brandeis University in Waltham, an institution which was established in 1948 on a complete nonsectarian basis, as the first corporate contribution of the Jewish community to American higher education. He has been its Chancellor since 1968. Before coming to Brandeis he was national director of the Hillel Foundations, having been one of its pioneers in the 30s and 40s when they became the center of Jewish life on scores of campuses in this country and abroad.

Dr. Sachar serves as consultant in problems of higher education and has been on commissions for such purposes by appointment of the governors of New York, Illinois and Massachusetts. He served on the state department Commission on International Cultural Exchange, by appointment of president Johnson, and has honorary degrees from 26 universities.

Crafts Show

The Friends of Austin Preparatory School, 101 Willow St., Reading, will hold their sixth annual "Olde New England Village Crafts Show" Saturday, Oct. 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Many craftspeople will demonstrate their specialties and all will have items for sale. There will be stained glass lamps, handblown glass, applique wall decorations, pressed flowers, dry and silk arrangements, candlewicking, and much more. A Country Kitchen snack bar will be open all day.

All proceeds will go to benefit the many educational and student activity programs at Austin Prep.

Tuesday Day of Peace will begin with an informal discussion focusing on the Franciscan Way of Peace. After a half hour of recreation when participants may stroll around the grounds, a meditation period will take place in the Franciscan Chapel. The liturgy will then be celebrated at approximately 4 p.m.

Charisma Institute of St. Francis Seminary conducts spirituality seminars on each Tuesday. Rev. Edward Hastings directs a session on the stages of spiritual growth from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Fr. Lucius Annese holds a seminar on Spiritosomatics, the relationship of spiritual growth to the person, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

To Discuss UN Program At Church

Priscilla A. Gardner will speak from the pulpit of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of North Andover on United Nations Sunday, Oct. 23, at 10:30 a.m. Gardner, who has worked all her adult life in the four states where she has resided and now in Falmouth, is the regional UN Envoy for the Ballou Channing District and is on the board of directors for the UU United Nations Office.

She has shared her interest in the work of the United Nations for 30 years with many civic, school and church groups. She has assumed many responsible roles in other community groups such as the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the U.W.C.A. and parent-teachers associations in order to bring the membership up-to-date information and accurate interpretation of the United Nations non-governmental organizations.

Gardner's subject will be "The United Nations: Servant of Human Needs." The public is invited to hear her and to join the congregation at a light lunch after the service in order to meet her and ask questions about the UN. The church is located at the juncture of Great Pond Road and Massachusetts Avenue in the Old Center of North Andover.

URGENT POSSIBLE DOCK STRIKE PUBLIC AUCTION PERSIAN RUGS AND OTHER ORIENTAL RUGS

Several shipments of fine persian rugs and other handmade Oriental Rugs has been shipped to U.S. Territories.

Since it has been some rumors that U.S. Docks are going on strike for a long period like 1973.

The importers did not want to take a chance' rush to clear and released by U.S. customs all the goods.

And now they do not have any place to store the goods. They are forced to dispose by auction as much as possible.

Majority of the rugs are without reserve, in fact some of the small rugs start as low as $10 or less.

Among the shipments some valuable rugs such as Nains, Esfahan, Herekes, and Qume Silk. Some rare collectors pieces are also included.

Isabel Lynch

Isabel (McCaffrey) Lynch of 70B Washington Park Drive, Andover, a former schoolteacher, died Oct. 15 at Lawrence General Hospital.

A Lawrence native, Mrs. Lynch had lived in Windham and Salem, N.H. for 15 years. She was educated in local schools and graduated from Lowell Normal School. Before her marriage to the late Gilbert I. Lynch, a retired Coast Guard captain, she taught at the Riverside School in Lawrence, and had taught in Maryland, Missouri and Alaska as well. She belonged to the Bon Secours Auxiliary, the Franciscan Auxiliary, the St. Clare League of Catholic Women, and the Lowell State College Alumni Association.

She leaves two daughters, Carole Basford, the wife of Captain Michael G. Basford, of California, and Karen Lynch of Randolph, N.J.; one sister, Mary McCaffrey of Lawrence; one brother, Frank G. McCaffrey of Lawrence; six grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and one niece, Joyce McGrath of Andover.

A funeral Mass was offered Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Church, Lawrence. Burial was in Bellevue Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Breen Funeral Home, 122 Amesbury St., Lawrence.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association, 79 Main St., Andover.

Dorothy W. Poorman

Dorothy Wade Poorman of Pennsauken, N.J., formerly of Andover, died suddenly Oct. 3.

Born in Lawrence, she moved to the Philadelphia area in 1930 and worked for the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf.

She later married Tyrrell H. Poorman of Highspire, Penn. and worked for the Curtis Publishing Co. in Philadelphia.

At the age of 60, Mrs. Poorman took up painting and won several contests. She was dubbed 'Grandma Moses of Camden County' by the township in which she resided.

She is survived by a son, T. Wade Poorman of South Venice, Fla.; a daughter, Virginia Johnson of Marlton, N.J.; five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Memorial services were held Thursday, Oct. 13 at the Easton Union Church, Hainesport, N.J.

Her body was willed to medical science for research.

Mary Murphy

Mary (Sullivan) Murphy, 60, 22 Beacon Hill Blvd., North Andover, died Wednesday following a short illness.

Born in Lawrence, she was a graduate of St. Patrick's High School and attended St. Patrick's Church, Lawrence.

The widow of Arthur R. Murphy, she is survived by three sons, Thomas, Arthur Jr., and Charles P., all of North Andover; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas (Elizabeth) Sipsey of Lawrence; a sister, Mrs. Marguerite

Burke of Andover and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass will be offered Friday at 9 a.m. in St. Patrick's Church, Lawrence. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover.

Friends may call Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Breen Funeral Home, 122 Amesbury St., Lawrence.

Winter Series Announced

Four performances are planned for children ages 3-12 as part of Kaleidoscope's third winter series this year at West Elementary School, Andover. The performances are held one Saturday per month from December through March.

Dates and programs are:

December 3: Jerry Vovcsko, professional storyteller, magician and musician.

January 7: You And Me Puppets of Judith O'Hare for preschool (ages 3-6). She will present "Jessica's Friends," a story dealing with friendship. Children from the audience will manipulate rod puppets and marionettes.

"Memories of a Chinese Grandmother" will be presented to elementary school (ages 7-12) children. Twenty-four puppets, including a festival dragon, are involved in this program which gives children an experience in puppetry as well as sensitivity towards the Chinese people. Twenty subscribers will be chosen to participate in a morning workshop, enabling them to actively participate in the afternoon performance.

February 11: The Mystic Paper Beasts from Stonington, Conn., are an internationally known masked theater company. They will present "Circus Genesis," a history of the circus from its earliest days to modern times. The performance includes a menagerie of animals using more than 40 masks in stunts and dance stories.

March 10: "Winnie the Pooh and Tigger, Too," presented by the Boston Children's Theater's touring company.

All performances for preschoolers are held at 1 p.m. Elementary shows are held at 3 p.m. in December and January and at 1 p.m. in February and March.

Preschool children must be supervised by an adult subscriber. As these programs have been chosen for the enjoyment of children ages 3-12, no infants will be admitted.

Subscriptions are available by sending a check to Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810. be sure to indicate which series is being purchased (preschool or elemen-

To Give Recital At Church

Christ Church, Central Street, Andover, will present an organ recital by Earl L. Miller on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 4 p.m. as the first of this year's Sundays at Four Concert Series.

Known nationally for his concerts of Victorian-Edwardian organ music, Miller is often heard over national public radio and has produced numerous records of organ literature.

Music director of Christ Church, Andover, and chapel music director at Brooks School, Miller is involved with the Organ Historical Society as their chairman of the Historic Organ Recital Series and is on the executive council of the Boston Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Miller's recital will feature a variety of literature from the late 16th century Spanish tradition, 18th century England and 19th century Germany and France. It will include a seldom-performed organ sonata by Gustav Merkel, two tone poems, "Dawn and Night," by Cyril Jenkins and a jovial work by Louis Alfred Lefebure-Wely.

A Spanish work by the 16th century Spanish composer Antonio Valente will be played on an unusual portable organ recently acquired by Miller. Known as a street musicians organ, this instrument as built by Rati Ram of New Deli, India, and produces a sound resembling the ancient processional organs of the Renaissance period.

Miller will also play three improvisations based on hymns composed by the contemporary New York composer Blair Weille.

The concert is free.

32-Acre Office Development Proposed For River Road Site

A new 32-acre research and development office park, with some 265,000 square feet of office space, may be built off River Road on a site adjacent to the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School.

The developers of the proposed "Riverside Park" presented preliminary plans to the Planning Board last week, and indicated that they will return with definitive plans before the end of the year. The board will hold a public hearing when the definitive plans have been submitted.

The developers said they would like to see construction get underway "no later than next spring."

Tom Southworth, representing McNeil and Associates of Westwood, told the planners that company has an option on the land, now owned by Patricia Doyle. The property is located to the rear of property fronting on River Road owned by Russell Doyle, who will build a lumber yard on his land.

Southworth said McNeil and Associates would own, develop and manage the office park. The company currently owns and manages apartment and office buildings, he said.

Plans for the industrial subdivision were approved for another developer at least five years ago, Southworth said, and McNeil and Associates are now asking for a modification to that approval. The developer would like to change the location, length and size of the subdivision roadway, which ends in a cul-de-sac, making it smaller than originally planned.

The developer has proposed building five or six single-story buildings on the site, building in phases and starting with one 60,000-square foot building, Southworth said. The buildings would range in size from 30,000 to 60,000 square feet, and would feature brick facades and windows.

The site is zoned Industrial A and served by town water and sewer lines. The vocational school has indicated that it would grant the developer an easement to tie into the school's sewer line, Southworth told the planners.

Subdivided into six lots, the site has wetlands on four of those lots, totaling seven to eight acres. The developer will need the Conservation Commission's approval of its plan to protect the wetlands.

Some regrading would be needed within the site; the developer would need a special permit for earth removal and regrading, Southworth indicated.

Parking for 700 to 800 cars will be provided on the site, Southworth said, but the developer has not studied the potential traffic impact of the development on the River Road area. He said the amount of traffic generated by the development would be determined by the occupants of the buildings, and that is uncertain at this point.

Southworth added that more information on traffic would be available in time for the public hearing later this year.

Reuse Plan Gets Award

The selectmen noted with some pride this week that the town's reuse plan for East Junior High has been honored as "the most significant management innovation this year in the Commonwealth," as the town manager described it.

The Massachusetts Municipal Association awarded the EJH reuse project (or the Creative Capital Financing program, as it was dubbed for purposes of the MMA competition) its Pickard Memorial Innovation Award for 1983.

"The high criteria against which the nominations for this award are judged make this a prestigious honor," MMA President Eugene Brune wrote in a letter of congratulations to the manager.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony called the award "heartening," and said he was glad to see "a substantial innovation of this nature" receive state-wide recognition. He pointed out that the East Junior High project was a town-wide project that required the approval of two town meetings, as well as the cooperation of town officials.

Finance and Budget Director Tony Torrisi submitted the project for the competition. The award will be presented to town officials during the MMA's annual meeting on Friday, Nov. 18, at the Dunfee Hyannis Hotel.

Under the EJH reuse plan, the two wings of the former junior high no longer required for school use are being renovated into town and school offices by a private developer, Andover Office Associates, at a significant savings to the town.

The developer has bought the building, and will lease it to the town for the next 15 years; after 15 years, the town will buy back the building. Town offices are scheduled to move into the wings by the end of December.

Innovative Employee Insurance Plan Will Save Town $155,000

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover is one of three Massachusetts communities that will participate in a pilot benefit management program to be offered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield next year, and the "innovative" plan will save Andover $155,000 next year, according to the town manager.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield announced details of its Master Health Plan yesterday morning in Peabody. Andover, Danvers and Peabody will start offering the plan to all municipal employees starting Jan. 1, and the program will be offered to other communities within the state later in the year. Blue Cross spokesman Ed Whittaker of the agency's Boston offices said this week.

"We consider this program a major step forward in the administration of quality health care benefits," Whittaker said. "It's designed to improve cost controls and health care management for the enrolled municipal employees in these three communities."

He called the program "a response to the concern of many municipalities across the Commonwealth about rising health costs, and the fiscal impact on municipalities. We're really quite encouraged by the benefits offered in health care management."

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that under the new plan, town and school employees will receive the same benefits they always have under the Blue Cross master medical program. The town pays 65 percent of employee health insurance premiums.

Blue Cross reviews the town every six months, and rate increases have been as high as 10 percent every six months, the manager said. "Rates have more than doubled in the last five years."

But under the new master health plan, Andover will see a 6.4 percent decrease in the rates in January, with that rate guaranteed for 18 months. That will result in a $155,000 savings to the town next year, Mahony said.

Town bargaining units are "very supportive" of the new plan, he added. The manager noted that town and school employees will see "a reduced amount withheld from their paychecks."

As of July 1, the monthly premium for master medical was $77.35 for an individual and $195.73 for a family. As of Dec. 1, that would rise to $80.06 and $202.54 — but under the master health plan, it will decrease to $74.95 and $189.61.

Blue Cross plans to realize savings by "ensuring that health care services are medically necessary, of high quality and rendered in the most appropriate setting," according to the agency. To reach those goals, the plan aims to improve physician peer reviews and patient education.

A major aspect of the plan: A second opinion will be required for certain surgical procedures (including hysterectomies, tonsillectomies and back surgery). That requirement will make it easier for employees to seek a second opinion when they might otherwise be reluctant to suggest that idea to a family physician, Mahony said — and the plan will pay for a second opinion as well.

The plan will also try to control costs with pre-admission reviews to reduce unnecessary hospital admissions; in-hospital reviews to discourage longer-than-necessary hospital stays; and discharge planning to decrease the time patients spend in the hospital and encourage treatment in other settings.

"I'm really excited about it," Mahony said of the program, which he and Andover Finance and Budget Director Tony Torrisi have been working on for the past year with Blue Cross, the Massachusetts Municipal Association, and officials from Danvers and Peabody. (He said the three communities were chosen for the pilot program because they are well-run, have good cooperation with employee bargaining units and good communication among the three communities.)

"I see it as providing a real benefit to the town and to the employees — better health care through better managed health care," the manager explained. "Employees will still use their own doctors, everything will be the same, but with a little management in there."

Last year Andover budgeted $430,000 for health insurance for school department employees, and $372,000 for town employees. Town officials anticipated a 20 percent increase in rates this year, and got an eight percent increase in July, Mahony said.

But instead of a 12 percent increase in January, the town will get a 6.4 percent decrease, to save Andover some money this year. And when officials plan next year's budget, they will have a fixed rate (guaranteed for 18 months) to work with and will save $155,000, the manager said.

Before the plan goes into effect on Jan. 1, town officials will meet with all town and school employees in small groups (on town time) to explain details of the plan, its rules and regulations. Each employee will be re-enrolled in Blue Cross and assigned a new number, the manager said.

Additional Riders Pose Another Bus Problem

After reviewing "potentially hazardous" areas in neighborhoods along Lowell Street and Shawsheen Road, the school department has added 76 new riders to its school buses.

The result is one overcrowded bus on the West Elementary School route, but Transportation Coordinator Kathleen Casey Tuesday night told the School Committee she would begin planning new routes this week to eliminate that overcrowding.

Parents from neighborhoods along Lowell Street, including Canterbury Street, complained to the committee this fall that the area was too dangerous for children walking to school. The area was not included on the committee's list of "potentially hazardous" areas, where children are bused even though they live within walking distance of school (less than 1.5 miles for elementary students and less than two miles for secondary students).

However, the school department and Police Department reviewed the area earlier this month, using a new set of guidelines to determine whether roads are potentially hazardous for walking children. Following that review, 76 children were incorporated into the busing system as of Oct. 14, Casey said this week.

One bus to West Elementary now has 79 to 81 riders, and some children must stand. That is a "temporary situation," Casey said, explaining that her department will return to the committee with new routes in the near future.

The children who have been added to the bus routes live on the following streets, according to Casey: Lowell Street, Canterbury Street, Westcott Road, Haskell Road, Chandler Circle, Shawsheen Road, Beech Circle, Cassimere Street, Smithshire Estates, Lincoln Circle, Lillian Terrace, Lincoln Street, Cyr Circle, Marilyn Road, Cindy Lane, Arthur Road, Theodore Road, Mary Lou Lane and Kirkland Drive.

Editorial Comment

A Community Problem

The school committee is currently addressing a serious problem of overcrowding in several of the town's classrooms.

Attempting to ease the concerns of parents, the board has agreed to examine the problem and has asked the administration for specific recommendations.

As of the moment, it has been suggested that teacher aides, rather than full time educators, be assigned to relieve the conditions existing in several elementary grades and some high school classes.

While there may be some temporary solution offered in such a plan, it does not address the more serious matter of overcrowding conditions being compounded as the school year progresses.

Acting School Board Chairman Donald Robb probably said it best this week when, in suggesting approaching the Finance Committee to examine financial resources, indicated the problem must be addressed by the community.

The two most serious overcrowding problems occur in the South and Sanborn schools, which meet the neighborhood educational needs of the most rapidly growing area in the community.

Consistent development of the area indicates that additional pupils will have to be provided for before this school year ends.

The problem already presented itself to the school department when bus routes were developed, and areas found to be in need of additional service just as the new school year was about to open.

While consultants and so-called experts will aver that families purchasing the types of homes offered in these areas will predominantly have children of secondary school age, the overcrowding problem is not relieved in any way, since there are problems at the high school level as well.

And, we doubt the offerings of the population experts in predicting the ages of youngsters moving into Andover, based on past experiences.

It seems, therefore, that exploring the possibilities of finding some financial resources through talks with the FinCom would be highly beneficial to providing an equal education opportunity to all Andover youngsters.

The school department did what it was ordered to do in determining its budgetary needs for the current school year, namely living within the constraints of Proposition 2½.

What it could not anticipate was the influx of new pupils to the system, a factor which will alter the school population figures throughout the current year.

It is recommended that the school committee address the problem in stopgap fashion at this point by securing teacher-aides, then proceed with exploring the possibilities of finding the resources to provide for full-time professional educators to properly provide Andover youngsters with the equal educational opportunity to which they are entitled.

Report
To Andover

By Rep. Sue Tucker

Ten years ago environmental protection was viewed as a peripheral government function, performed for the birds and an elite group of citizens.

Contaminated water supplies, acid rain and reports of "unhealthy air" on the radio have changed that picture so that today environmental protection is widely accepted as a fundamental public health issue. Government at all levels is having a difficult time responding to changing technologies, shifting political winds and the public demand to clean up decades of pollution.

President Reagan's effort to loosen rather than tighten environmental regulation is, in my estimation, very unfortunate. Certainly there are areas of over-regulation in America. However, experience has shown that the "free market" arguments simply do not apply in this arena for the following reasons:

1. If the price of a product does not include the safe disposal of materials used to manufacture the product, then the taxpayer—who ultimately pays for clean-up—is subsidizing the product (hardly free market). Nowhere is this lesson more clearly illustrated than with our rivers. Taxpayers are footing the multi-billion dollar bill for clean-up. Consider our own Merrimack River, once a sewer, now fishable and swimmable in many sections, courtesy of the taxpayers.

2. Environmental laws which are not adequately and uniformly enforced are, indeed, unfair to business. The company which ignores the law without penalties clearly has a competitive edge over the company which follows each step to insure lack of environmental damage.

3. The G.N.P. does not measure "quality of life" which very much depends on a healthy environment. When water contamination is discovered in a community, citizens live with terrible anxiety as well as the inconvenience and expense of bottled water. Andover has not been entirely free of "trouble spots," but all our potential problem sites have either been cleaned up or are closely monitored by the town. Fortunately, we have an aware citizenry, qualified officials and cooperative industries in Andover so that we have been relatively untouched by the toxic waste problem.

Increasingly, environmental protection is a state responsibility, and few citizens are aware of the enormity of the task. Consider hazardous waste alone, forgetting for the moment air quality, land use, acid rain and Boston Harbor. Since 1977, six major federal and state laws have been passed to control toxic waste, its transport, treatment, disposal and clean-up. Each law entails hundreds of detailed regulations to implement the legislation.

In the past few years, the state D.E.Q.E. (Department of Environmental Quality Engineering) has been charged with over 30 new mandates such as:

- Track the generation and disposal of all hazardous substances in Massachusetts;
- Assess, contain and remove spills;
- License all transporters and treatment facilities;
- Develop standards for all methods of disposal, from incineration to landfills;
- Monitor and test groundwater for contamination;
- Investigate potential release of hazardous substances.

Anyone reading the pages and pages of regulations would assume the hazardous waste problem is

A new electric time clock has been placed in William C. Crowley's drug store by the Western Union Telephone and Telegraph Company.

While answering an alarm of fire on Monday afternoon a cap was lost from one of the wheels of the hose wagon, and the department is desirous that it be returned at once.

One hundred years ago Wednesday, Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, the composer of the national hymn "America," was born. The hymn was written while Dr. Smith was a student in Andover Seminary, and while his home was in the old Blunt house on Main street. It is not pleasant to think that this anniversary passed by without any recognition of a public nature on the part of Andover citizens.

In years past many an eye has looked on Prospect Hill from afar and not recognized that it was Prospect Hill. But that is changed. The white paling fence of the new reservoir crowns Prospect Hill now, and it is a landmark to all the country round.

50 Years Ago — October 1933

The largest parade in the town's history took place Monday night as some 4,000 marchers paraded through the town's streets to show their faith in the N.R.A. Gaily decorated floats, some beautiful, some humorous, rolled along the main street in the center of town amid a myriad of torches and red lights to provide a magnificent spectacle for the 30,000 people who came from near and far to see the parade.

"The Cossacks are coming", a cry of terror in the Middle Ages to the tribes of heathen inhabitants that fringed the Russian Steppes, means today but one thing — the pacific advent of a band of singing men who have been thrilling Europe under the name of the Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus.

John H. McDonald of 123 Chestnut St. has received the recommendation of Congressman William P. Connery, Jr. for the local postmastership, and it is almost certain that President Roosevelt will make the appointment soon.

25 Years Ago — October 1958

The Andover Village Improvement Society has purchased Baker's Meadow, a 48-acre tract off Reservation road, and will preserve it in its natural state. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Henderson sold the land, negotiating with the AVIS Land Committee, headed by Harold Rafton. The AVIS some time ago had its charter altered so that it can purchase land for conservation in its natural state.

The town may be asked soon to decide whether it will sell about 200,000 gallons of water to North Reading daily. That water-starved community, whose water exploration activities this summer have had discouraging results, has inquired about the possibility of purchasing some water from Andover, on a temporary basis.

The School Committee edged slightly closer to approving merit pay for teachers, following a meeting Tuesday night with the Teacher's Association Executive Committee. But varied opinions among School Board members on a basic salary schedule forestalled a vote.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Women active in combat
in Nicaraguan civil warBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — There is an untold story in the bitter, bloody civil war in Nicaragua. It's a story about women in combat.

We recently sent our roving reporter Jon Lee Anderson to Nicaragua. He was the only reporter to visit the combat troops of all the groups involved — the Sandinista army and the three guerrilla factions fighting to overthrow the government in Managua.

Our reporter marched with the front-line troops and was even caught in an ambush on one occasion. Everywhere he traveled, he found evidence that women carry a sizable part of the combat burden. From what he saw and heard, the women are as effective in combat as the men and have won their male companions' respect as soldiers.

The largest anti-Sandinista rebel force is the CIA-backed Nicaraguan Democratic Force, or FDN. It has an all-women combat unit of 70 soldiers. The women were credited with saving a male company from destruction when it was pinned down in an ambush. Our reporter heard the battle from a distance as he was marching with another FDN unit.

Some of the female warriors are mere girls. A youngster named Marta, for example, claimed to be 15 years old but barely had the strength to lift her AK-47 automatic rifle. She had already been in three battles when our reporter met her.

Marta said she joined the rebels after her father, a Sandinista officer, tried to force her into the youth militia. She ran away from home and now, she said, she would kill her father if they ever met in combat.

Another rebel soldier, Dunia, was recruited by FDN commandos who arrived at her house one night. She is now an officer and the camp medic. She also acts as one of two political indoctrination officers.

On the southern front, our reporter met another woman soldier fighting with the fabled Commander Zero, Eden Pastora. A combat veteran, she first fought with Pastora four years ago against the dictatorship of Anastasio Somoza. When Pastora broke with the Sandinistas and went into exile, she followed him.

On the Sandinista side, women are visible at all levels of the military. Many date their combat experience back to the guerrilla warfare against Somoza in 1978 and 1979.

Unlike women in the United States, Nicaraguan women soldiers are given combat assignments without regard to sex. They ask for no special consideration, and they carry out their duties uncomplainingly.

FIRST PHANTOM?: What has happened to the Soviet Union's first lady?

U.S. intelligence agencies have been keeping a close watch on Soviet Premier Yuri Andropov for 30 years. They've followed every move he has made as he moved up the Kremlin ladder to the top. They have spy cameras that can identify the license plate on his limousine; their monitoring equipment can pick up his private conversations inside the Kremlin.

Yet the spooks can't locate Andropov's wife. They know her name — Tatyana Feliupovna. They also know she's his second wife. His first marriage ended for reasons that aren't clear. The first wife, incidentally, has also disappeared.

Intelligence experts have been able to keep track of Andropov's children. His first marriage produced a daughter named Irina, who is married to Alexander Filipov, a well-known actor. A son by Andropov's second wife is named Igor. He has studied extensively in the United States and wrote a thesis on the American labor movement.

But where is the Soviet Union's first lady? Tatyana Feliupovna has not been seen for two years. She has not appeared at social functions or public gatherings. Is she separated from her husband?

The intelligence experts can't really say. They're not even sure whether she is dead or alive.

TIMBER BAILOUT: During the late 1970s, the nation's timber companies anticipated a continuing demand for new housing and engaged in a reckless bidding binge. The prices paid for federally owned timber reached 400 percent of its appraised value.

Then the recession dried up the demand for housing and the companies found themselves overloaded with unmarketable, over-priced timber. The firms asked President Reagan for a bailout. He has decided to grant it, despite the objections of budget chief David Stockman and economic adviser Martin Feldstein.

The bailout could cost the taxpayers billions.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., is an outspoken opponent of expensive water projects. He recently showed up in the House cloakrooms wearing a pig mask to protest pork barrel water projects then under consideration. House Speaker Tip O'Neill, D-Mass., called Conte and asked him not to wear the mask on the House floor.

— The Department of Agriculture has signed multi-year contracts to store wheat and grain in Midwest warehouses. Critics say the government paid far too much money and that as many as three-fourths of the warehouses will not be used. Result: Millions of dollars wasted in contracts the government can't get out of.

All auction items will be on display at a preview cocktail reception, beginning at 6:30 p.m. during which guests will be treated to music, hors d'oeuvres and beverages.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Meal preparation and laundry are the two household chores that must be attended to with greatest regularity. It sometimes makes sense, then, to locate these two functions as closely together as possible. At minimum, this requires that the washer and dryer be included in the kitchen or adjoining space. The homeowner should realize that not all of these appliances are the same size. While a pair of full-size appliances, side by side, take up from 48 to 56 inches, compact models require less space. A stacked arrangement can occupy 24 to 28 inches in width and about 72 inches in height. Such dimensions may allow hiding laundry appliances in cabinets that match others in the kitchen.

Are you getting the maximum use out of your kitchen? WINDSOR KITCHENS is pleased to offer you over 12 years of experience and welcome you to browse our showroom for ideas. Sit down with your qualified personnel and discuss your plans and dreams. We're easy to find on Rte. 125 in Ward Hill a 1/2 mile north of Western Electric or phone 372-3444. We're open Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-4, eves by appt. and we welcome all your inquiries.

Rangers Dampen Warrior Hopes

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High football team saw its hopes for an undefeated season shot down in flames last weekend as visiting archrival Methuen put a damper on Coach Dick Collins' 25th anniversary celebration with a hard-earned 7-0 victory over the Golden Warriors before a large crowd of 2,500 fans last Saturday at Lovely Field.

The Rangers notched the game's only touchdown with just over six minutes left in the final quarter and time ran out on AHS as it was driving for a possible TD and game-winning two-point conversion try.

The loss dropped Andover to fourth place in the Merrimack Valley Conference standings, trailing unbeaten co-leaders Dracut and Chelmsford (5-0-0) as well as victorious Methuen (4-1-0).

Things could improve this Saturday, however, as Dracut and Chelmsford collide and Methuen must contend with an always-tough Tewksbury squad.

The Golden Warriors won't have it easy either as they visit Wilmington High to battle a resurgent Wildcats' crew that is 3-2-0 and has won two straight over Haverhill (22-21) and Billerica (22-8).

Wilmington also led powerful Dracut 7-0 until the final minute in their season opener, eventually losing the game 8-7 on some late-game Middies' heroics.

Last Saturday the Warriors never seemed to get untracked against Methuen, which stymied Andover with a wide variation of defensive formations.

Defense has always been a characteristic of teams coached by Larry Klimas, even when he was at Austin Prep, and this year's Methuen squad is no different.

In handing Andover its first shutout of the 1983 campaign, the Rangers limited AHS to seven first downs, 45 yards rushing and 145 total yards from scrimmage.

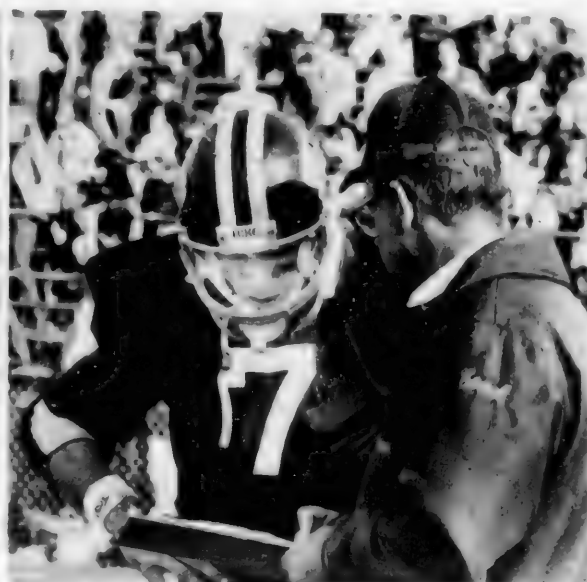

Two of those first downs and 53 of those yards were gained in the final 22 seconds of play, when a desperation aerial drive moved the Golden Warriors from their own 36-yard line to the Methuen 16 as time ran out.

Collins Comments

"Methuen played very well defensively," stated Collins after the contest. "but we also made a few mistakes in execution. I think with the big crowd there our kids may have been a little tight."

"They jammed us pretty well, but I believe it was more a case of our not making the big play than Methuen stopping us. A couple of dropped passes, a clipping penalty and missed blocking assignments. Those things happen. Methuen didn't do anything that much differently than anyone else we've played.

Exciting Play, Dejecting Day

"I thought our defense was outstanding as well," continued Collins. "I can't think of a kid who didn't play well. Other than their one scoring drive, Methuen didn't cross midfield once in the game.

"They caught us on two key plays in the drive, something that he (Klimas) has been doing to us for years. One was a quarterback keeper on the option (16 yard run for first down by Bob Smith), and the other was a fake drive and pop pass (12 yards to Mike Whittaker at the AHS six).

"You figure a team with as good an offensive backfield as Methuen has will score sooner or later, but any time we hold a team to seven points we should win the game," commented Collins. "There were mistakes all around, including a couple by me and we helped Methuen for sure."

At this midway stage of the season Collins is extremely pleased with the Warriors as a whole and the defense in particular, despite the tough loss.

"Defensively we definitely have exceeded my expectations."

Defensive Struggle

The Andover defense, which has allowed few sustained drives this year and only one touchdown in each of the last four games, was as strong and impressive as Collins indicated.

Co-capt. Bill Donovan played another exceptional game, being credited with 16 tackles (five unassisted) while Chris Scarpa produced his fourth interception in the last three games and Mike Gibson made his second fumble recovery in two weeks.

Grant VanAken, Bob Stabile, Glen Markey, Charlie Zeigenbein, Brian McAnally and Mark Nardone also contributed solid performances.

Offensively, however, Andover quarterbacks Ralph Dellatto and Scarpa were often forced to scramble while premier running back Stabile was limited to 36 yards in 12 carries.

The rivals exchanged four punts in the first period, Nardone unloading 47 and 41 yarders in a tricky crosswind, but the lone offensive highlight came on a 15-yard pass from Dellatto to Stabile.

Wide receiver Mark Grams broke behind the rangers' secondary on a second down poay at the Methuen 44 late in the quarter, but the pass down the left sideline was slightly overthrown at the Methuen 20.

The first break came in the opening play of the second stanza when Scarpa picked off a pass by MHS quarterback Bob Smith and returned the ball 11 yards to the Rangers' 31.

The next four plays were typical of Andover's frustration throughout the afternoon. An option pass from Scarpa to Zeigenbein was batted down, runs by Dellatto and Stabile carried just five yards to the 26 and a Dellatto to Zeigenbein pass just missed connections in the endzone.

The pass was well-thrown with Zeigenbein getting his hands on the ball, but Methuen deep back Jim Baker also had the play well-covered.

The Rangers failed to penetrate Andover territory once in the first half, reaching the 50-yard line in the second period before reserve QB Chris Flanagan mishandled a snap and then Barry Tardugno fumbled a pitchout with Mike Gibson pouncing on the ball for Andover.

With just seconds remaining in the half, a long pass from Dellatto to streaking Larry Cuddy was intercepted by Mike Fowler at the Methuen 15. Cuddy dropped Fowler after a four-yard return and the half ended with Flanagan falling on the ball.

Kickoff Called Back

The first real opportunity for Golden Warrior fans to cheer came on the second half kickoff when speedster Pete Comeau gathered in Mark Jozokos' bouncing boot at the six-yard line and raced 94 yards down the left sideline for an apparent touchdown.

On this particular day, when nothing went particularly right, it was almost predictable that the play would be called all the way back to the Andover 15-yard line by a clipping penalty.

The Warriors, aided by a personal foul penalty against Methuen and a nine-yard pass from Dellatto to Nardone, moved the ball out to midfield before being forced to punt.

Nardone was hit after he unloaded the 36-yard kick, but no flags were thrown.

The teams traded two more punts before the Rangers launched their scoring drive late in the third quarter, a crisp and error-free 79-yard march that required 14 plays and carried over to the fourth period.

The first 11 plays were rushes by Jay Tardugno, Barry Tardugno, Jozokos and Bob Smith, the big gainers an 11-yard jaunt by Jay Tardugno and a 16-yard keeper by Smith (his only run of the day).

Smith then fired a 12-yard pass to Mike Whittaker, who was hauled down at the Andover six. Jay Tardugno slammed to the three, then slipped from the grasp of two would-be tacklers to score on a three-yard run at 3:41 of the final period.

Jozokos toed the conversion to make it 7-0.

Late Threats

The Golden Warriors received a fine 16-yard return from sophomore Tim Perry on the subsequent kickoff and started to move with authority as Stabile ripped off 10 and five-yard runs, Dellatto hit Grams with a seven-yard pass and Stabile gained five more yards to the Methuen 34.

At this point the drive bogged down, however, as two running plays went nowhere and a fourth down pass from Dellatto to Stabile missed connections.

Andover retained possession with just over two minutes to play, taking over at its own 38-yard line. But a Dellatto pass to Cuddy was blocked by Barry Tardugno, a Stabile run netted just three yards, another pass went astray and Dellatto was sacked by Steve Walsh and Tim Donovan on fourth down.

Methuen took control at the Andover 35 with 1:20 to play, forcing the Golden Warriors to use their final two timeouts and taking a delay-of-game penalty to run the clock down to 0:22 before surrendering on downs.

Andover Junior Football Results

Week three of the six-game junior football season saw the West Andover Redskins notch their first win, 6-0, over the Central Colts.

The only score of the game came in the first half when quarterback Andy Peck connected with Chris McAnally on a pass over the middle and McAnally scored untouched. The play covered 30 yards. The Colts stopped the P.A.T. try when James Spinelli was smothered at the line of scrimmage.

The Colts only scoring threat of the game came midway through the fourth quarter, but their drive as topped at the Redskins 11-yard line when a fourth down pass completion from halfback Scott Wallace to Joe Lyons came one yard short of the first down marker.

Halfback Doug Howes ran the ball well for the Redskins and linemen Erik Greenstein and Mark Avery played strong games.

Standouts for the Colts were the two-way effort by Chip Stella and the running of Keith Abernathy. Robert Norris, Mike Waldie, Adam Lavin and Matt Levine turned in "gutsy" performances.

The contest between the Bancroft Dolphins and Indian Ridge Vikings ended in a 13-13 tie.

The Vikings took a 13-0 lead at the half, only to have the Dolphins storm back in the third quarter to tie the score.

Fullback Steve Howes scored the first touchdown for the Vikings and then bulled his way in for the extra point. He also figured in the other Vikings' score on a pass play to Jeff Lazzarino. The P.A.T.-attempt was no good.

The Dolphins came on strong in the second half and tied the score on a 41-yard run by Adam Galvin and a one-yard plunge by David Tucker. Curt Solomon scored the all-important extra point.

The Vikings' offense was keyed by the leadership of quarterback Doug Bruk, end Sean Minor and tackle James Kim. Henry Pressman, Tom DeBenedictis, Jeff Conley, Chris Landers, "Skik" Radulski, "Splinter" Cassidy, Kurt Brucato and David Blank turned in strong performances.

The Dolphins were led by the spirited play of Matt Cinelli, Barry Finegold, Steve Caltagirone and Brian Duffy on offense and Andy Shea, Tim Haarmann, Louis Lopresti and Rob Finneran on defense.

Sandwiches are named for the Earl of sandwich who, the story goes, invented a meat-between-slices-of-bread meal so he could eat with one hand and not have to stop gambling.

Robin Boyle On Swim Team At Hartwick

Robin Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle, York Street, Andover, is a member of the 1983-84 Hartwick College swim team.

She is a freshman beginning her first year of swimming for the team.

The Hartwick College men's and women's swimming teams' season will run until the third week in March. Paul Richards, who has coached since 1976, has returned for his second year as the Warriors' coach.

According to Richards, the size of both teams has increased with a larger number of talented swimmers and specialists in specific events, thus giving the team as a whole more depth.

The men's team has many returning swimmers and seven freshmen. The number of women on the team has doubled from last year. The increase in numbers will be a great advantage in competition.

The Warriors easily defeated the Hillies 7-0 in Haverhill in the rain on Wednesday and then fought a spirited Chelmsford team to a 2-0 victory in the Eugene Lovely Stadium on Saturday.

Andover 7 - Haverhill 0

The Warriors, in a re-match with the Hillies in Haverhill, demonstrated their scoring prowess by tallying seven goals at the same time holding Haverhill scoreless. Their first encounter also resulted in a 7-0 victory.

Barry Tucker put Andover in the lead in the first quarter when he shot the ball into the upper right corner of the net, off a pass from Zack Apgar.

Scott Wilkins made it 2-0 in the second quarter. Tucker intercepted the ball and made a great pass forward to Apgar who passed it to Wilkins for the score.

Minutes later Apgar scored his first goal of the season when he received a pass from Brian Sheehy, dribbled the ball down the middle of the field and scored to put the Warriors ahead 3-0.

In the third quarter Jeff Kennedy made a high cross pass to Tri-Capt. Jim Denoncourt who stopped the ball, controlled it and made a great shot into the net.

Towards the end of the quarter, right defender Nick Bates scored his first varsity goal from about 25 yards out, following a lovely cross from the left by Peter Surette.

The Warriors added two more goals in the final quarter. Paul Hevehan scored on a pass from Denoncourt and Sheehy scored his first varsity goal with the assist going to Tucker.

Goalkeeper David Bartle recorded his second shutout, at one time making an outstanding save on a ball definitely headed towards the net.

In commenting on the game, Coach Dave Amundsen said, "It was fun for the players in the rain and the field conditions were not too bad. Andover did not experience a let down and did what they were supposed to do for their second game against Haverhill."

"It was nice to see seven different scorers connect with the net, as many of them had come close in other games."

Amundsen concluded by expressing the opinion that "Haverhill is mostly a young club and will work to improve their position in the league next year."

follow through and score.

Three minutes into the second quarter Andover took the lead when Zack Appar made a great shot on net off a pass from Tri-Capt. Jim Denoncourt. The half ended with the Warriors leading 1-0.

Midway through the third quarter the Warriors made it 2-0 when Peter Surrette made a great shot towards the net from the left side, which Paul Hevehan directed into the net by tapping the ball with his head.

The final quarter as scoreless although Chelmsford's best opportunity to score occurred midway through the quarter when they surged following a corner kick. Tri-Capt. David Keene, who at the last minute filled in for ailing goalkeeper David Bartle, punched the ball out and away from a pack of Chelmsford players, only to have it return whereupon he again punched it out. His efforts denied Chelmsford any score.

"It was probably Andover's best coordinated team effort with every member of the varsity contributing and contributing well to the victory," stated Coach Dave Amundsen immediately following the game.

"The defense banded together to protect Keene who was playing his first game in goal in many years. Tri-Capt. Hai Dang did an outstanding job at sweeper, as did Steve McDowell at stopper back. Both wing fullbacks, Sean Burns and Nick Bates, also played well.

"When at center half and center forward, Wilkins played a fine game," he concluded.

With the season winding down, the Warriors are now in a must-win situation if they want to qualify for the states. They have five games left to play, with only two scheduled for home. Tomorrow (Friday) they face a tough encounter with Lowell, away, a team they fought to a 1-1 tie earlier in the season.

The Warriors travel to Tewksbury next Wednesday to play a team they fought to a 2-2 tie in their first encounter.

registration sessions on Sunday, Oct. 23, and Sunday, Oct. 30, between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. at the West Junior High gym.

The gym will be open during that time for any players wanting to practice.

This registration is for West Parish players only, and not for any other ACBL churches or teams.

West Parish players can also obtain registration forms at the church office on Reservation Road or from coordinator Rick Harrison at 34 Chandler Road.

Anyone wishing further information on the West Parish teams, should contact Rick Harrison at 475-27 (days) or 458-7100 (evenings).

Church League

The Andover Church Basketball League has begun registration for the 1983-84 season. The following coordinators are signing youth (8-15) for league play: Dick Heidt, Ballardvale United; Mike Robinson, Christ Church; Paul Girard, St. Augustine's; Bob French, St. Robert Bellarmine; Ed Rouillard, South Church; Marty Greenstein, Temple Emanuel; and Rick Harrison, West Parish.

Youth who live in Andover and do not attend a town church or who attend an Andover church that does not have a team, may register for the league. Registration forms are available from the coordinators or at the Department of Community Services, the Andover Hockey Shop and The Sport Shop. Registration fee is $10.

Because of increased interest, the league will have for the first time a 10-12-year-old girls' division.

Swimmers Sink Methuen 112-60

Like the tidal wave they are, the Andover High School Varsity swim team washed over Methuen 112-60 at the Greater Lawrence Regional High School pool for their 19th consecutive victory.

The medley relay team of Michele Fox, Anne Koerckel, Abby Robb and Laurene Lazzaretti began it when they won the 200 yard event. Laura MacVicar, Ann Marie Cronin, Susan Gerstberger and Dawn Fater were third.

Carilyn Cronin, Anne Costello and Michelle Osborne went 2-3-4 in the 200 yard freestyle. Fox placed a strong second in the 200 yard I.M. with co-captain Amy Brown third and Maegan Hughes fifth.

Senior co-captain Lazzaretti won the 50 free easily outdistancing the field while Debbie Rice was third and Linda Rensink fourth. Andover's consistently improving divers continued their strong performances with Gerstberger first, Karen Reddington second and Brenda Busta fourth.

Robb faced her toughest competition in the 100 yard butterfly so far this season in teammates Cathy Smith and Diane Sagaser. She won the event with Smith second and Sagaser third.

Lisa Boudreau led teammates Anne Herrmann, second, and Jennifer Tilghman, third, in the 100 yard freestyle.

Sagaser placed a strong second in the 500 yard freestyle with Mitchell third and Mary Robb fifth.

Another 2-3-4 finish in the 100 yard backstroke found Andover's Rice, Fox and Cronin finishing in that order. Koerckel returned to capture the 100 yard breaststroke with Tracey Thompson third and Dawn Aikman fourth.

Brown, Sagaser, Boudreau and Smith put the icing on the cake when they won the 400 yard freestyle relay.

A tradition was begun at this meet. The varsity swimmers established the Jane S. Cronin Memorial Award to honor annually the outstanding Methuen swimmer in the Andover-Methuen meet. The award is in honor of the late Methuen swim coach, Jane Cronin. This year's recipients were Ranger co-captains Diane Fyrer and Kara Nightingale, both double winners in the meet.

Cobras Capture Second In North Andover Tourney

By She Livermore

A team from Andover participated in the Under 12 Division of the 1983 North Andover Soccer Tournament held during Columbus Day weekend. Other towns represented were Billerica, Chelmsford, Dedham, Framingham, North Andover, Peabody and Salem.

A series of round robin games were played on Saturday and Sunday (40-minute contests) and the Andover Cobras accumulated a total of five out of eight maximum points by defeating Billerica 1-0, splitting a 1-1 decision with Chelmsford and overpowering Peabody 5-0. Their only loss was to Framingham, last year's state champions.

The Cobras winning record qualified them for the semi-final rounds on Columbus Day, together with Framingham, North Andover and Billerica. In a very tight game against North Andover, the Cobras prevailed 1-0; this game was notable for the outstanding saves made by goalie Nicole Ricci late in the contest. In the other semi-final game, Framingham easily defeated Billerica 5-0.

In the closely contested championship match between the Andover Cobras and state champions Framingham, which ran for 60 minutes, Framingham scored once in each half to win 2-0. The fullbacks and goalies of both teams played an outstanding game.

Members of the Andover Cobras were Jennifer Brodie, Amy Brocklesby, Lisa Campbell, Cate Doherty, Kathy Doran, Andrea Duffy, Suzanne Gianelly, Susan Goldstein, Elizabeth Hanson, Laura Hebeisen, Erin Lynch, Bridget Murphy, Nicole Ricci, Jodi Saunders, Megan Sheehan, Kara Slavin, Deirdre Sullivan and Michelle Vetrano. The team was coached by Dennis Doran, Jay Saunders and Dick Hanson.

Andover Hockey Association

PeeWee A

The Andover Hockey PeeWee A team, coached by Paul Gilmartin and assisted by Mike Murname and Ed Chaisson, have started off the 1983-84 campaign with an exceptionally strong showing. The team's record is 8 wins, 2 losses and one tie. Since October 1 they have gone eight games without a loss (7 wins and 1 tie). They play league games in Wilmington and Danvers and non-league games with other teams from the greater Boston area.

To date the PeeWee A team has outshot their opponents 364-145 and outscored them 76-28.

Andover 11 - North Andover 1

Andover totally dominated North Andover in Wilmington League action with four goals in each of the first two periods and three in the third. Andover outshot their opponents 33-8. Matt Pothier led the scorers with a three-goal hat trick. Tim Sullivan, Glen Farnham and David Sopp each had two goals and Duke McNamara and Randy Moreau has one each. Assists went to Chip Stella (2), Sopp (2), Farnham (2), Todd Roycroft, Pothier, McNamara, Glen Driscoll and Gary Bleszinski. One of Farnham's goals was shorthanded.

Squirt A's Unbeaten

The Andover Squirt A's opening unbeaten streak reached seven games on Thursday, Oct. 13, when the team defeated Wilmington 4-1. Andover goalie Brian Novelline would have had his third shutout of the young season if it had not been for a missed offside call on Wilmington.

Andover scored three goals in less than 90 seconds in the middle of the first period and essentially coasted to the win. Sean Darwin opened the scoring at 6:36, finishing off a play involving linemates Michael DiStefano and Kevin Smith. DiStefano scored 21 seconds later to make it 2-0 as wings Darwin and Smith earned assists. A minute later John Melillo made it 3-0 with a goal off a Brian Lane-pass. Wilmington generated very little offense in the period as defensemen Todd Allard and Petr Arthur continually cleared the puck out of the Andover zone.

Andover's second-period goal came as the result of a length-of-the-ice rush by defenseman Lane. Colin Nix and Chris Pothier had good scoring bids stopped by a very good Wilmington goalie later in the period, just before the questionable Wilmington goal. The third period featured good up-and-down action by both Andover lines and some fine defensive zone play by Jonathan Shine.

Andover 11 - Saugus 1

The Squirt A's streak as extended to eight games on Friday, Oct. 14, in Danvers when the team defeated a weak Saugus team 11-1. Nine of Andover's ten skaters scored at least one goal and every skater picked up at least one point via a goal or an assist. Sean Darwin and Brian Lane had two goals each, while Kevin Smith, Chris Pothier, Todd Allard, Michael DiStefano, Jonathan Shine, Colin Nix and John Melillo had one each. Jay Coburn led the assist parade with two. Goalie Brian Novelline came up with the key saves when he had to, losing his shutout on a breakaway.

Andover 5 - Winthrop 0

Goalies Mike Murname and Tim Lane shut out Winthrop in Wilmington as the A's had another strong effort. Tim Sullivan led off the scoring with assists to Duke McNamara and Glen Farnham. A few minutes later this line connected again with McNamara scoring from Sullivan and Farnham. The score remained 2-0 into the third period when David Sopp made it 3-0 from Gary Bleszinski and Matt Pothier. McNamara got his second goal four minutes later from Farnham. Pothier finished the scoring with an unassisted goal. Congratulations to Farnham for his three assists.

The Winthrop goalie deserves special attention as he turned away more than 50 Andover shots.

Andover 8 - Haverhill 3

Andover traveled to Danvers to meet Haverhill which was undefeated in two leagues. First period saw Andover outshooting them 13-4, but saw the score 2-1. Haverhill scored on a two on zero break on Mike Murname who made the initial two stops, but the rebound went in. Glen Farnham scored to make it 1-1 with assists to Duke McNamara and Tim Sullivan. Sullivan then made it 2-1 on nice passing from McNamara and Randy Moreau.

Andover pulled away in the second period on three Matt Pothier goals and another from Farnham. Assist went to Gary Bleszinski (2), David Sopp, McNamara, John Gilmartin, Todd Roycroft, Chip Stella and Sullivan. McNamara and Farnham finished the scoring with one each in the third.

Once again, a solid effort by goalies Tim Lane and Mike Murname. Congratulations to Matt Pothier and Farnham for their hat tricks and to McNamara for his three assists.

Gridders

Dellatto quickly zipped a 22-yard bullet to Charlie Ziegenbein, who made the catch in play with 10 seconds left.

Andover stopped the clock by taking an illegal procedure penalty, pushing the ball back to the Methuen 47.

On the game's final play Dellatto hit Grams with a 31-yard pass, Grams reaching high to make a fine catch in traffic, but he was tackled at the Rangers' 16.

Statistics

Methuen held slim advantages in first down (8-7), yards rushing (133-45) total yardage from scrimmage (152-141), scrimmage plays (54-47) and time of possession (22:16 to 17:44).

Andover had a 96-19 edge in yards passing, Dellatto (7-for-15) and Scarpa (1-for-2) combining to hit 8-of-17 tosses.

Grams caught three passes covering 41 yards, Stabile two for 24, Ziegenbein one for 22 and Nardone two for nine yards.

Nardone punted five times for a 37.4 average.

Wilmington

In addition to its previously-mentioned victories over Haverhill and Billerica, this Saturday's opponent also blanked Greater Lawrence Regional 21-0. The losses have come against Dracut and Central Catholic (12-0).

Wilmington quarterback-safety Dean Athanasia is a double threat, having thrown four touchdown passes and intercepted four enemy aeriels. Athanasia has also had a pair of 80+ rushing games.

Paul Caizzi and tight end Brian Moon are the chief offensive threats, along with Athanasia.

Caizzi had 156 yards rushing against Billerica last week and for the complete season has five touchdowns, 32 total points and over 300 yards rushing.

Moon, who is also the Wildcats' placekicker, has corralled four TD passes and booted eight extra points for his 32-point output.

Freshmen

The Andover West freshmen, trailing 12-0 at the start of the final quarter, rallied for a dramatic 14-12 win over Austin Prep.

For West, now 2-1-0, the first touchdown came on a 26-yard pass from quarterback John Perry to Rich Bourdelais. The two-point conversion came on an option pass from Steve Redgate to Bourdelais.

West then executed a successful onside kick, moving the ball steadily down to the Austin Prep three-yard line in the closing seconds.

The winning touchdown was scored by offensive lineman Dave Curtis, who alertly picked off a West fumble in mid-air and went the final two yards.

The Andover Doherty freshmen (0-2-0) dropped a 13-6 decision to undefeated Methuen (3-0-0).

Pete Barry scored the Doherty touchdown, while Rick Lafond and Mark Needham also played well.

Doherty hosts Wilmington and West visits undefeated St. John's Prep (2-0-1) in frosh action tomorrow afternoon (3:30 p.m.).

The Andover High JV and sophomore football teams are also winning consistently, the lone loss thus far coming against Lowell.

Among the recent JV standouts, several of whom also play varsity in reserve roles, have been Eric Friedenson (two TDs against Greater Lawrence), Tim Perry, Shane Smith, Austin Henderson, Rob Nelson, Mark Polakow and Tom Rossbach.

The Andover Soccer Association's annual meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 7, at Memorial Hall Library at 7:30 p.m. All members are encouraged to attend.

Brief results of the many games played last weekend appear below:

Under 14/16 Division

Kickers 2 - Strikers 1

The Strikers went ahead 1-0 when Henning Ohlenbusch scored off a pass from Chris Gully early in the second quarter. Towards the end of the quarter, Bob Hughes tied it up for the Kickers on a pass from Gary Zeigler. Both teams pressed for the extra goal and win and, when Mike Coco shot the ball into the net off passes from Hughes and Jonathan Butt, he won the victory for the Kickers. BOW: Mat McKinnon and David Rene for some great goaltending (Kickers) and Greg Kinsky and Jose Guerra (Strikers).

Strikers 1 - Lancers 0

With only eight players on hand at the start, one of whom left midway through the game, the Lancers had an uphill battle facing a full complement of Strikers. Their defense worked hard and denied all attempts to penetrate their area until the final quarter when Chris Gully made a fine shot on net to give the Strikers the hard-earned victory. BOW: Tom Tormey and Patrick Burns (Strikers) and goalkeeper James MacKay for some great saves, Tom Herling and Tom Ciolfi (Lancers).

Express 4 - Stoppers 2

The Stoppers scored early in the game when George Heseltine kicked in the ball on a pass from Nickey Co. The Express responded in the second quarter to tie it up when Andy Weiner scored off a corner kick. Both teams tallied in the third quarter (Robert Ashworth on a pass from Wes Breazeale for the Stoppers and Robert Stoltz off a pass from Jim Reagan for the express) and the scoreboard read 2-2. In the final quarter the express surged repeatedly and won the victory with goals by Jeff Leonard direct and Stoltz off a corner kick. BOW: Andy Taylor and Wes Breazeale (Stoppers).

Express 5 - Lancers 1

The first half was pretty even with Express taking a 2-0 lead on goals by Joey Boucher and Robert Stoltz. Mike Biondo and Peter Vehlou assisted on the latter. In the second half express played stronger and the forwards pressed, scoring three more goals when Rusty Leonard, Vehlou and Brian Worcester found the range (Jim Reagan assisted on Vehlou's tally). The spirited Lancers denied the shutout when Stuart Leinson kicked in the ball on a pass from Tom Herling in the final quarter. BOW: Doug Bleszinski and Tony Ciolfi (Lancers) and Jeff Leonard and Philip Morello (Express).

Stoppers 4 - Whitecaps 2

The score was tied 1-1 at the halfway mark with Nicky Coon scoring for the Stoppers off a corner kick by David Penney. George Heseltine made it 2-1 when he scored on a pass from Penney in the third quarter and John Pike's score on an indirect kick from Heseltine gave the Stoppers a good lead. The Whitecaps came back with one, as did the Stoppers (Rob Ashworth on a penalty kick) to win 4-2. BOW: Michael Mooney, Jim Murphy and Robin Kim (Stoppers).

Kickers 2 - Whitecaps 1

The Kickers took an early lead when Steve Sorrie assaulted the net on a pass from Tim Donovan. The Whitecaps tied it up in the second quarter. Both teams fought for the extra goal and the win, and when Donovan made a successful shot on net in the final quarter, off a pass from Bob Hughes, the Kickers won the hard-fought victory points. BOW: Gary Zeigler and David Grace (Kickers).

Pumas 1 - Lions 0

The Pumas played a strong game throughout the contest with the forwards moving the ball into the Lions' area repeatedly. The Lions' defensive players did a great job, as did the goalkeeper and held the Pumas to one goal kicked in by Karen Sopp in the second quarter to win the victory for the Pumas. BOW: Eileen Dorrian and Beth Lucey (Pumas).

Pumas 0 - Jaguars 1

The Jaguars pressed the attack throughout the contest but good marking by the Pumas' players thwarted their many efforts to score until the final quarter when they did get one by the defense to win a 1-0 hard-fought victory. BOW: Denise Doran for some outstanding goalkeeping and Pilar Caballero (Pumas).

Panthers 0 - Jaguars 4

The Panthers were forced into playing a defensive game as the Jaguars attacked repeatedly throughout the contest. When the final whistle blew, the Jaguars had tallied four goals to win. BOW: Nikki Vadeboncoeur and Kim Anderson (Panthers).

Panthers 1 - Wildcats 1

Much of the action in the game between the Panthers and Wildcats took place midfield with both teams working hard to get the ball into the goal zones. They both succeeded on one occasion in penetrating the defense and scoring (Nikki Vadeboncoeur for the Panthers on a fine pass by Laura Cox) and the game ended in a hard-fought 1-1 tie. BOW: Aimee Piazza and Carolyn Nash (Panthers).

Under 12 Division

Eagles 2 - Ospreys 1

The Ospreys played one player short in their game against the Eagles and did a fine job allowing only two goals to be scored, one by Rosemary Torrisi on a pass from Bryn McGovern and the other unassisted by Lee Dziadosz. The Ospreys were able to break through the Eagles' defense for one goal by Michele Meli on a pass from Ann Larsen but were unable to connect for another, giving the victory to the Eagles. BOW: Michele Meli, Ann Comstock and Kara Lavasseur (Ospreys) and Monica Dugal and Kara Zappala (Eagles).

Hawks 4 - Owls 0

The Hawks had the upper hand in their game with the Owls breaking through the Owls' defense with two goals in each half of play. Goals for the Hawks were scored by Kelly Hajj, assisted by Jennie Legg, Mary Ellen Green on a pass from Melina Mills, Julie Darwin from a penalty kick and Marisa Murtaugh unassisted. BOW: Debbie Donovan, Colleen Brady and Teri Babine (Hawks) and Andra Gardner and Jodi Jangro (Owls).

Falcons 1 - Condors 2

The Falcons played the entire game with only nine players. They were able to break through the Condors' defense for a goal from Tricia Doyle, but this was not enough to offset the two goals that the Condors were able to score, one by Kathleen Radulski and the other by Pauline Koh. BOW: Jennifer Stableford, Carolyn Oskar and Meg McConville (Condors) and Jeanini Meckel, Dainia Gammon and Heather Ryan (Falcons).

Ravens 1 - Buzzards 2

The Ravens were the first on the scoreboard when a pass from Laura Hebeisen was put in the net by Elizabeth Hanson. The Buzzards came back to tie the game when Adea Duffy scored assisted by Suzanne Gianelly. The Buzzards were able to break through the Ravens' defense for one more goal by Gianelly, assisted by Stacy Reilly. BOW: Elizabeth Hanson and Michelle Vetrano (Ravens) and Elizabeth Shea, Kristine Spignesi, Leslie Wilkinson and Nicole Ricci (Buzzards).

Gulls 2 - Buzzards 0

The Gulls were able to post the shutout victory over the Buzzards with goals by Susan Goldstein and Meghan Nix with an assist going to Rachel Dix. The Buzzards continued to play a strong game, but were unable to connect for a score. BOW: Kathy Doran and Jodi Saunders (Gulls) and Stacy Reilly, Shelly Currier, Melissa Eckman and Beth Robinson (Buzzards).

Buzzards 4 - Egrets 0

In a makeup game played at Dusk the Egrets were forced to play a very defensive game by a strong offensive lineup of the Buzzards. The Buzzards goals were scored by Elizabeth Shea, Suzanne Gianelly, Nicole Ricci and Cate Doherty with the assists credited to Stacy Reills, Ricci, Doherty and Andrea Duffy. BOW: Kim Hein, Stacy Gold and Heather Reghetto (Buzzards) and Cheryl Lury, Lynda Banzi and Jessica Demoulas (Egrets).

Egrets 1 - Albatross 2

The Egrets were able to get on the scoreboard first with an unassisted goal by Brenna Cronin in the first period. This lead was to be shortlived when Erin Lynch scored for the Albatross, assisted by Una Gauthier in the second period. The third period saw both teams play a tight defensive game with the only other score coming in the fourth period from a breakaway goal by Lynch. BOW: Kara Slavin, Karen Broderick and Amy Brocklesby (Albatross) and Mimi Bernardin, Lesley Brammer and Dede Sullivan (Egrets).

Gulls 5 - Ravens 1

The Ravens were the first to score in this makeup game with the Gulls. The Gulls poured on the offense to take the victory with goals by Susan Goldstein, Jodi Saunders (hat trick) and Rachel Dix with assists going to Stephy Couture (2) and Kathy Doran (2). BOW: Meghan Nix and Diane Castignoli (Gulls).

Albatross 4 - Ravens 2

The Albatross dominated the first period, scoring three times against the Ravens. Goals were scored by Una Gauthier, Anna Minkinen and Erin Lynch with assist going to Lynch (2), Karen Brylczyk and Megan Sheehan. The Albatross were able to add one more goal when Wendy Germain scored on a pass from Lynch. BOW: Lynn Baker and Jennifer Romig (Albatross).

Skyhawks 2 - Flames 3

The Flames were the first on the scoreboard with an unassisted goal by Brad Reghitto. This lead was to be shortlived when Mike Hein broke through the defense and put the Skyhawks on the scoreboard. The Flames were able to score two more goals, one by Paul Vallee assisted by Reghitto, and the other on a pass from Adam Clark to Mark Leinson. The Skyhawks continued to fight back and brought the game within one when they were able to score on a penalty kick. BOW: Mike Lebreck for outstanding defensive and goalie work (Skyhawks) and Paul DeMarco, Chris Gray and Michael Sintros (Flames).

"One half the world cannot understand the pleasures of the other."
— Jane Austen.

Tempests 3 - Stingers 2

In a very evenly-matched game, the Tempests came away with victory when Chris McAdams

Shooting Stars 2 - Supersonics 3

The Supersonics scored three goals in the first half of play to lead the Shooting Stars. The Shooting Stars came out strong in the second half with two goals by Chris Eggert. They continued with a strong offensive push, but were unable to tie up the game. BOW: David Hughes and David Wager (Shooting Stars).

Skyhawks 2 - Thunderbolts 2

The Thunderbolts scored in the first few minutes of play when Doug Rogers passed to David Hobbs. The Skyhawks came back to take the lead with an unassisted goal by George Bilger and a goal by Matt Daly, assisted by Peter Caruso and Mike Hein. The Thunderbolts were able to tie it up on an indirect kick from Todd Mustera to Matt Kelley. BOW: Aram Krauson and Matthew Maderos (Skyhawks) and Stephen Liaw, David Sopp and Mark Angelos (Thunderbolts).

Apaches 1 - Comanches 2

The Apaches were able to get on the scoreboard first with a pass from Bryan Bucher to Fred Hohn. This lead was not to stand up when the Comanches broke through the defense in the third period with two goals by Albie Minichiello with assists from Adam Galvin and Brett Hammer from a corner kick. BOW: Greg Afarian, Robert Dawley and Daniel Ely (Apaches) and Alastair Bor, Ryan LeGrow and Michael Taylor (Comanches).

Mohegans 3 - Cherokees 2

With no scoring in the first half both the Mohegans and Cherokees played evenly both defensively and offensively. The Mohegans poured on the offense in the third period and Ken Gable scored on a pass from Matt MacVicar. The Cherokees came out fighting in the fourth and Chris Cashman scored an unassisted goal and Billy Tobin scored on a pass from Dallas Babineau. The Cherokees kept pushing, but were unable to come up with the tie. BOW: Sean Tynan and Reed Newton (Cherokees) and Joey Hastings, Jason Blandini and Terry Retelle (Mohegans).

Navajos 3 - Mohawks 3

The Navajos and the Mohawks battled to a three-all tie. The Navajos goals were scored by Mark Shwetz, assisted by Danny Surdam, Charles Jessico on a pass from Andy Brent and Shwetz on a pass from Marc Selvitelli. The Mohawks received their goals from Dennis Aikman, unassisted, Steve Knight on a penalty kick and Eric Patterson on a pass from Billy McCann. BOW: Michael Aponick and Michael Zetlan (Mohawks) and Marc Selvitelli, Mark Shwetz and Eric Horton (Navajos).

with assists from Mark Ziady and Tyler Vadeboncoeur. The Comanches only goal came from Michael Taylor, assisted by Brett Hammond and Albie Minichiello. BOW: Mark Van Doren, Gregg Shapiro and Jason Male (Comanches) and Danny Burn and Danny Griffin (Sioux).

Cherokees 2 - Mohawks 2

The Mohawks scored first when Adam Brown passed to Ward Russell. The Cherokees came back in the third period to tie it up when Michael Pierro headed in a pass from Billy Tobin. The Cherokees then went ahead with an unassisted goal by Steve Spinelli. The Mohawks were not to give up and Adam Guild scored on a corner kick from Bryan Smith to tie up the game. BOW: Danny Lennon and Dennis Aikman (Mohawks) and Kirk McConville and Chris Cashman (Cherokees).

Under 10 Division

Monsoons 2 - Storms 1

The Monsoons were the first on the scoreboard in the first period of play when Robin McLellan passed to Patricia Murphy for the goal. The Monsoons were not able to penetrate the defense of the Storms again until the fourth period when Heather Norton scored on a pass from Karen Brocklesby. The Storms were not about to give up and Bridget Guerrero hit a powerful high looping kick which found its way in the Monsoons' net for the score. BOW: Bridget Guerrero, Alexis Campbell, Rachel Roberts and Diane DeRosa (Storms) and Elizabeth Davies, Kristin McAllister and Martha Vehlou (Monsoons).

Tornadoes 4 - Typhoons 1

The Tornadoes poured on the offense in the first period and were able to break through the Typhoons' defense with three goals by Julie Conner and Shannon McGovern (2) with assists going to McGovern, Kathy Burgess and Lorien Buehler. The Tornadoes were able to add one more goal in the second period by Burgess. The Typhoons were not going to give up easily and prevented the shutout when Jennifer Howard broke through the defense and scored. BOW: Michele Hebert and Virginia Blais (Tornadoes) and Maura Collins, Jennifer Anderson and Tyrin Avery (Typhoons).

ers)." and said the administration and committee should seek realistic answers to the overcrowding problem, "as opposed to going off in flights of fancy."

He said the committee would try to add teaching time, and asked the administration to return with a report on which classrooms are suffering the most "educationally untenable" situations.

And he said the committee would decide where to look for the money to fund new teaching positions, either by making changes in its current budget, or "exploring with the Finance Committee the resources of the town." Robb said the problem was not merely a school committee concern, but "has to be addressed by the community."

Changing the allocation of funds between the town side and school side of the budget would require town meeting action.

According to parents, the overcrowding problem is most serious in third grade classes at South and Sanborn. At each of those schools 59 third-graders are divided into two instructional groups. At Sanborn, there are 32 students in one language arts group and 32 in one math group; at South, 33 in one language class and 35 (including one special education student) in one math group.

(At Bancroft, the third grade is divided into three instructional groups, with groups ranging from 21 to 26 in language and 23 to 25 in math. At West Elementary, the third grade includes five instructional groups, with a range of 15 to 29 students in language groups and 17 to 27 in math groups.)

In addition, instructional group sizes have climbed to 30 or higher at Bancroft, grades four, five and six; at Sanborn, grades two and four; at South, grades four, five and six; and at West, grades one and four.

West Elementary School Principal Jack Coyle explained that students are placed in instructional groups according to their ability, based on their readiness for each grade level and the learning pace they need. Students in each group "cover the same material, but the route differs," Coyle said.

He told parents he did not like to see groups exceed 23 to 25 students in the primary grades, and 25 to 27 students in the intermediate grades. "I have seen classes of 33 to 34 function extremely well, but I'm not recommending that," the principal said. "I wouldn't encourage that kind of grouping."

Committee member Susan Poore said that with limited financial resources, "the primary purpose of our existence is to see that we have enough teachers. Secondly comes everything else." She said she would be willing to adjust the current budget if necessary to provide more teachers this year.

Committeeman Robert Smith said he sees "an erosion of the Andover school system," but added that the committee has a budget that covers the total school system, both the elementary and secondary schools. "We can't just reach into this budget and find the money," Smith said. "It is frustrating."

More students than anticipated have enrolled in the elementary schools this year — and Alice Radack of Dundas Avenue told the committee that more children may enter the system before the year is over, as families begin to occupy new homes now under construction in town.

Cheese, Butter Registration Scheduled

The Andover Council on Aging will participate in Round Six of the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council's (GLCAC) commodity foods distribution program. Andover residents age 60 and older should contact the Council on Aging office at 470-0870 with their names, addresses, phone numbers and Social Security number to pre-register for cheese and butter. Registration for prior cheese distributions does not automatically register you for Round Six.

Browns 3 - Giants 4

At the end of the third period the Browns were leading the Giants 3-2 on goals scored by Jeff Hamilton (2) with an assist from Craig Garcia for the Giants and Gus Quattlebaum (2) and Daniel Mooney for the Browns. The Giants tied it up in the fourth period when Greg Gigliotti passed to Jeremy Gibson who broke through the Browns' defense and scored again to give the victory to the Giants. BOW: Tim Grogan, Jimmy Eckels and Chris Fletcher (Giants) and Chethan Harish and Warren Empey (Browns).

School Appointments Approved

During a regular meeting at the Shawsheen School building Tuesday night, the School Committee approved several appointments, along with one resignation and one election to tenure.

As part of the gifted and talented program for the 1983-84 school year, Nora Harrison was appointed program leader and liaison; Lorraine Farrell was appointed program leader; and Judith Iversen, program leader.

Three staffers were appointed to positions as in-service committee members for the current school year: John Givens, Betty Coyle and Louise Cullinan.

Lisa Campagna of Andover was appointed Xerox machine operator, 15 to 20 hours per week, filling an existing budgeted vacancy. Pauline Dowe of Andover was appointed a South School instructional aide, 12 hours per week, filling a position recently approved by the school committee. Cynthia Freeman Cyr of North Andover was named a social work aide at the high school, filling an existing vacancy. And Susan Finn was named to a temporary assignment as secretary to the Doherty Junior High principal, filling in for M. Halbach, who is on a leave of absence.

The committee accepted the resignation of Helen Stratton, an instructional aide at West Junior High employed by the school department since January, 1982.

They approved the election to tenure of Ann Doran, an adjustment counselor, who will fill a position approved by the committee during their last meeting.

And they approved the transfer of Michael Howard, a junior custodian, to the position of senior custodian at Andover High, effective Oct. 19.

Selectmen Approve Planner

Nancy K. Jeton of Salem has been hired as a staff planner to work with the Planning Board and other town officials. The selectmen approved her appointment Monday night, and Jeton will begin working full-time on Monday, Oct. 24.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said Jeton will be assigned planning studies and other responsibilities that in the past have been contracted to consultants. The salary for her position was approved by annual town meeting as part of the Community Development and Planning department's budget.

One of the new planner's first assignments, according to the manager, will be to complete a study of the Lowell Junction industrial area aimed at helping the town win state and federal approval for a Route 93 interchange in the area. Later Jeton will work on such planning issues as subdivisions and land use, Mahony indicated.

Mahony praised the planner's background as "outstanding." Jeton is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she earned a master's degree in city and regional planning. She earned her undergraduate degree magna cum laude from Dartmouth College, where she majored in urban studies and geography.

She most recently served as a planning consultant with Louis Berger, Inc., working with federal government agencies in Lagos, Nigeria; she has also worked as assistant planning director and as grants assistant for the Salem planning department.

Cats Trip Planned

Tickets to the magical musical sensation "Cats" go on sale at the DCS office Monday, Oct. 24, at 8:30 a.m. and will continue until all 43 balcony seats are sold. The evening performance is Saturday, Feb. 4. Trip includes round-trip bus transportation and admission to the Shubert Theatre.

Board Approves Merger

The stockholders of Bank of New England Corporation approved the merger of CBT Corporation, Hartford, CT, into Bank of New England Corporation in voting at a special stockholder's meeting held recently at corporate headquarters in Boston. The merger was overwhelmingly approved with only 1.5 percent of outstanding shares voted against the merger. Approval was also received from CBT Corporation stockholders at a separate meeting in Hartford. The merger is still subject to regulatory approval by federal and Massachusetts state authorities. Approval has already been received from the Connecticut Banking Commissioner.

Roderick M. Mac Dougall, chairman of Bank of New England Corporation, said that it was gratifying to receive strong stockholder support for the proposed merger. "The merger will create a strong regional banking organization able to respond aggressively to the challenges presented by the evolution of the financial services industry," said Mac Dougall. "Benefits from the merger will be enjoyed by the entire New England region including our three primary constituencies: stockholders, customers and employees."

Mac Dougall went on to address the subject of third quarter earnings for Bank of New England Corporation commenting that "third quarter 1983 earnings will probably fall slightly short of the level achieved in the second quarter of this year." He observed that industry-wide interest margin pressures had had an impact on these third quarter results as did a $1.8 million pretax write-off of WPPSS Bonds held by the corporation.

Under the terms of the merger, Connecticut Bank & Trust Company will become a subsidiary of Bank of New England Corporation. The merger will bring total assets of the corporation to $11 billion, equity capital to $540 million and provide a total of more than 240 banking offices serving the Massachusetts and Connecticut markets. Currently, Bank of New England Corporation ranks in the top 60 bank holding companies in the nation based on assets. The company owns 12 commercial banks, including Bank of New England-Bay State, Lawrence, and several non-bank subsidiaries which provide a broad range of financial services in New England and selected other domestic and international markets.

Haunted House Set For School

The Department of Community Services and the Andover Community Theatre's fifth annual Haunted House will be held Monday, Oct. 31, at Shawsheen School from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

With a slight touch of sorcery the old elementary school building turns into a dark, eerie cavern where only evil dwells. Anyone wishing to risk entering the Haunted House to challenge the dark should enter at the Sherbourne Street door. An all-new route funneling through the building has been planned featuring Charlotte's Web, Witches Brew and The Executioner. Adult volunteers are needed to insure a safe and effective Haunted House. Contact the Department of Community Services if you can donate your services in making props or posing as scary creatures.

A small fee will be charged at the door to all Haunted House visitors.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

This afternoon, if you are interested in a flu shot, you should hurry down to Doherty Junior High School between 3:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. to get your shot. It is too late for you to arrange transportation or a pneumonia shot, but not too late for the flu shot. Hurry down this afternoon, Thursday, Oct. 20. The flu shot is free.

At the luncheon site at Doherty Junior High on Wednesday, Oct. 26, Ilene Feinberg, an experienced nutritionist, will speak on "General Nutrition and the Aging." She will also answer any questions on food and nutrition. But, please, if you do intend to be at the hot lunch program that day, make a reservation so that there will be food enough for everyone. You can call as late as 9:30 that morning and still be on time, but the importance of your reservation cannot be overemphasized.

Next Monday is United Nations Day and in celebration, Dr. Curtis Martin, chairman of the political science department of Merrimack College, will speak on the United Nations. The program will start at 2 p.m. and you will want to be there. Monday, Oct. 24, at 2 p.m. in honor of UN Day at the senior center.

The date for the trip to the Fine Arts Museum has been established, November 8. This is a special opportunity for you to view the new American Artists program put together by the museum. You will have a guided tour and then an absolutely elegant luncheon at the museum, all for $22 which includes transportation to Boston and home again. It should be a thoroughly enjoyable day. You won't want to miss it.

Tickets are now on sale for the November 3 Recognition Dinner in honor of the Greater Lawrence Association of Councils on Aging at the voke school. This annual pot roast dinner costs $2 plus an additional dollar if you need transportation and is in recognition of specific members of the association who have given so freely of themselves in order to make the Councils on Aging work for you. Everyone is invited, but ticket numbers are limited. So, don't delay. Get your ticket today. They are available at senior centers throughout the area.

The next session of the mini-clinic will be held Tuesday, Oct. 25, at Frye Circle, Remeber, appointments are required and should be placed through the Andover Health Department 475-7820. This is not to be confused with the regular Wednesday afternoon blood pressure clinic held at The Haven, which is free and requires no appointment. The mini-clinic is also free, but is more thorough and does require an appointment.

The Museum of Our National Heritage is marking the 175th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday (February 12, 1864) with a major exhibition, "The Controversial Mr. Lincoln," opening October 30 and continuing through April 15, 1984.

Self-Help Workshop

The American Lung Association's self-help program for children ages 6-12 with moderate to severe asthma will be explained and distributed at a Superstuff workshop on Monday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. at the association's office in Topsfield.

"The purpose of the workshop," explains JoAnne Weldon, program associate of the American Lung Association of Essex County, "is to instruct parents and children with asthma on the use of Superstuff in order to maximize the kit's benefit. Included in Superstuff is a 16-page newsmagazine for parents."

Preregistration is required. The workshop is free although a donation is requested to help defray the printing costs of the kit.

To register, or for more information contact JoAnne Weldon, Program Associate, American Lung Association of Essex County, 239 Newburyport Turnpike, Topsfield, MA 01983.

A SPORTS CAR FOR GROWN-UPS.

Sooner or later, almost every car enthusiast comes up against a classic dilemma: performance or practicality?

Growing family responsibilities and tightening financial limitations force most to give up the high-performance machinery that they love. Instead, they buy plain-vanilla sedans or station wagons and daydream about how much fun driving used to be.

There's another choice. There's the Saab 900.

Its power and road manners make it one of Europe's most desirable sports sedans. Yet it can accommodate four adults very comfortably and carry their luggage in a generous, expandable cargo compartment. Saab's prices make it easy to get your family into one, too.

NOTHING EVEN COMES CLOSE

Europe's "Car Of The Year" Audi 5000S

When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised. You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built.

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise).

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S.

Not because all those experts did. But for all the same reasons they did.

Rolling Green Service Center, Inc. - For Your Complete Automotive Needs

Get your car ready for the rough winter months ahead at Rolling Green Service Center, 309 Lowell St., Andover, where you'll get quality service at a reasonable price.

It may be difficult to think of snow with the mild fall weather we've been having but the first snow of the year is just waiting to surprise us. Don't be surprised! Have your snow tires (or get new snow tires) put on, adjust your shocks and have all your winter motoring needs professionally taken care of at Rolling Green Service Center.

And just in case you are caught by surprise in the snow, call Rolling Green. With two wreckers, they offer 24 hour road service and towing. They are AAA and ALA affiliated and have established an impeccable record for their service from their many satisfied customers. And Rolling Green gives you free estimates even over the phone.

Rolling Green offers a full range of repairs with the most up-to-date equipment available. They are also a Massachusetts approved inspection station with the new emission control analysis equipment.

They are a complete service station with a full range of repairs including front end alignments, computer wheel balancing, electronic tune-ups etc. Another important feature at Rolling Green Service Center is their tremendous stock of tires. They stock 90% of what you will need for your automobile or truck.

Owner Brendan Foster has 13 years of experience in the automotive business having worked at Mobil in the sales marketing department before purchasing Rolling Green Service Center.

Brendan understands what you are looking for in a service center.

When dealing with Rolling Green Service Center you have a friend in the car service business who is ready to assist you whenever and wherever your car fails you.

Remember Rolling Green Service Center whenever you have car troubles (or if you want to prevent them), 309 Lowell St., Andover. Open Monday - Friday 6 am - 10 pm, Saturday 7 am - 10 pm, and Sunday 9 am - 10 pm. Tel. 475-5558.

Madison Hill Upholsterers - One of the Oldest in New England

Trust Madison Hill Upholsterers, 300 Canal St., Lawrence, for old fashioned quality and professional re-upholstering. They believe there's no compromising quality.

Their work is not done at assembly line speed but a painstakingly slow pace to assure you that every detail is taken care of; overcast edging so the fabric won't shred, lock stitching, top stitching and the use of durable shoe thread are just samples of the care Madison Hill takes with your furniture.

In fact, 99% of Madison Hill's customers are either recommendations or repeats. Their satisfied clientele are the basis for Madison Hill's reputation of consistent top quality work. And the customers come from as far away as Connecticut and Florida.

All work is done in Madison Hill's factory by their own artisans. Madison Hill does the complete job from stripping and refinishing to delivering the finished piece to your home. Framework, finishwork and even redesigning, if desired, will make your good furniture last a lifetime.

At Madison Hill you'll find custom-made furniture, restored antiques and quality leatherwork using only top grain cowhide. They don't just recover it; they can completely restore and strengthen pieces.

Only kiln-dried hardwoods and steel webbing are used. Tempered coil steel springs are hand-tied with Italian flax coated with latex to increase tensile strength and retard deterioration. Cushions are filled by air pressure.

Non-allergenic filler is used. And finished pieces are steamed in the shop to eliminate shrinkage after delivery.

If someone in your home is allergic to certain materials or your current furniture covering, Madison Hill can do your furniture in non-allergenic materials.

Choose from a selection of fabrics from all over the world: Italian satins and linens, Belgian cut velvets, silks, tweeds; you'll find anything and everything! Call 686-7264 for their interior decorator to come to your home to show you selections.

So trust your furniture to Madison Hill Upholsterers. Tel. 686-7264.

solved. Not so. At least three major problems stand in the way of progress:

1. D.E.Q.E. is woefully underfunded to carry out these mandates. Of 12,000 hazardous waste generators, which are subject to regulations in Massachusetts, only 400 of the 2,400 largest can be inspected each year. We spend less than one percent of the state budget on hazardous waste control.

2. D.E.Q.E. has very limited enforcement options available. Literally thousands of violations occur routinely, yet D.E.Q.E. is unable to levy fines without lengthy court battles which drag on for years while the pollution continues.

3. Massachusetts has no coherent hazardous waste policy. We spent two years drafting a siting law to encourage a large treatment plant to locate in Massachusetts, safely process our waste and solve the problem forever. To date, no such facility has been built and most experts oppose it on the grounds that it would encourage more production of hazardous waste, let alone the fact that no community will accept the facility.

Source reduction—reducing and recycling hazardous substance presently produced—is the new trend, yet we have no resources or policies to implement source reduction statewide.

I feel it is the responsibility of lawmakers to take a leadership role in correcting these problems. That is why I am forming an Environmental Caucus in the House with Rep. Mike Barrett of Reading. We will address many environmental issues, but much of our energy will be directed to budget review and advocacy for D.E.Q.E., putting teeth into our present hazardous waste laws and establishing a hazardous waste policy with specific goals.

The response to the caucus has been outstanding. Many legislators share these concerns. By joining together, we can impact policy to a significant extent.

Down The Years

time officially declaring his candidacy for the new all-Andover state representative post in the 1974 election. Collins has served on the board for the past ten years.

The selectmen and school committee members have been conducting joint work sessions in recent weeks in an attempt to fully examine the possibility of obtaining town economy through combining some services. Chairman Roger W. Collins reported this week that the sessions have been most co-operative and productive. Noting that it was the first time in some years that there had been significant co-operation between the two boards, the selectmen chairman said that the joint meetings were initially examining the possibility of central purchasing.

The department of public works began its annual leaf collection work on a limited basis. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said the machinery began making curbside visits this week and would probably increase its activity as the leaves begin to fall more abundantly. Once the leaves are down more completely the work will go on a full time schedule, with the leaf loader making single sweeps of the town streets.

Concert

Sinfonie-by-the-Sea, the North Shore's orchestra, will launch its 1983-84 season in the East India Marine Hall of the Peabody Museum of Salem on Saturday, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m. The world premiere of "Voyage for Orchestra" will be featured as well as Haydn's "Symphony No. 94 in G (Surprise)" and Tchaikovsky's "Serenade for Strings."

Just Listed!

Calling all singles, working couples, or investors! Exciting two year old townhouse with loads of space, convenient locations, and beautifully appointed. Earth tones predominate, two large bedrooms, including master with stenciling, double entry bath as big as a room, guest bath and laundry, sliders to patio, fully applianced kitchen, and lots more. A great buy on today's market. $59,900

Under construction in one of Andover's new areas, this 4 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath Colonial Saltbox can still be customized to suit your needs. Huge kitchen opens to a magnificent cathedral ceiling family room, four spacious corner bedrooms with two good sized baths on the second floor. Generous allowances by the builder. Lovely corner lot enhances this fabulous property. $153,000
Prefer to start from scratch? We have another building package on a cul-de-sac at the same price. Call for details.

HUNNEMAN PROPERTIES

Because of our size, we at Hunneman have a number of special use properties such as horse farms, antique structures in need of restoration, small apartment buildings, former churches ready for conversion (so to speak), and other investment properties. These are located around the North Shore and other parts of eastern Massachusetts and we would be delighted to get information to you if you're in the market for these types of properties.

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Superior Court

Essex, ss In Equity
No. 83-2186

To Christine M. Maiorana and Charles I. Maiorana, both of North Andover, in the County of Essex, Sears, Roebuck & Co., care of Sudalter & Levin, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk; Arlington Trust, of Haverhill, in said County of Essex; Alfred Fiorilla, care of Anthony J. Randazzo, Jr., of said Lawrence; Town of North Andover, Collector of Taxes, of said North Andover; and all in said Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and to all persons entitled to the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended

Whereas, Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, of Salem, in said County of Essex, claiming to be the holder of a mortgage covering real property situated at 598 Salem Street, in said North Andover, and more particularly described in the mortgage, given by said Christine M. Maiorana and said Charles I. Maiorana, to said Salem Five Cents Savings Bank, dated July 17, 1973, and recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 1223, Page 174, has filed with said court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage by entry and possession and exercise of a power of sale. If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, and you object to such foreclosure of said mortgage, you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said Court at Salem, in said County of Essex, on or before the 21st day of November 1983, which day is the return day of this subpoena, or you may be forever barred from claiming such foreclosure is invalid under said Act.

Witness, Thomas R. Morse, Jr., Esquire, Chief Justice of our Superior Court, the 28th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighty-three

MORE SPACE NEEDED

"We need more space." That's one of the most common reasons people give for wanting to move into a different home. And if you ask them exactly what they mean, chances are they'll scratch their head and say... "Well...just more space!" The truth is, people often cannot put their area needs into concrete terms. They're pretty sure they need an extra bathroom or bedroom, but beyond that their requirements are rather vague.

If you're looking for a new home, it's a good idea to engage in a little quiz with yourself and your family. Consider what you have now and what you want and need in your new home. Think about recreational and hobby activities as well as general living requirements. Make up a checklist starting with, say, the kitchen. Is your present one big enough, or do you need something bigger? Are you eating there now, and would you continue? Or would you rather dine somewhere else in the new place? Do this for EACH room and you'll end up with a clear picture of what to look for. It takes a little time, but it'll turn out to be an investment in real happiness.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Urgent Appeal For Blood

Faced with a recurrent severe shortage of blood, particularly in the crucial group O inventory, The American Red Cross Blood Services must collect 1,000 units of group O blood over the next four days in order to maintain normal service to hospitals. Currently the supply of group O blood, the most commonly transfused group, is at 34 percent of optimal level. Citing a New England pattern of low collections, the Northeast region issued an urgent appeal for blood donations of all blood groups.

The problem is compounded by higher than usual blood distribution recently. The Northeast region has been unable to obtain additional blood from other regions. All six New England states are experiencing serious shortages of blood, as are other regions.

The situation has forced the Red Cross to limit its services to many hospitals, supplying group O on an emergency basis only. According to Peter L. Page, M.D., acting director, "We have not seen any dramatic recovery from the traditional low summer donations. Instead, blood donations for the month of October are off projections by 8 percent. If the shortage continues at the present rate, the Red Cross inventory will fall 3,000 short of the necessary supply for hospitals by the end of October. Adding to our concern is the fact that we must be prepared to supply many units of blood for liver transplant patients on short notice. This means that we must have on hand ready for transfusion blood components from as many as 200 donors. At this point we have no alternative but to appeal to the public to ensure that there is enough blood for hundreds of patients needing blood daily nationwide."

For more information on donor center hours and scheduled Bloodmobiles in Massachusetts, call 1-800-342-8748.

The Methuen Donor Center will be open for donations Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday this week from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bloodmobiles in the Greater Lawrence area:

Thursday, Oct. 20, Greater Lawrence Vocational High School from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 22, Salem N.H. First Baptist Church from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Monday, Oct. 24, Lawrence High School from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.
